Livingston County School Facility Tax in Effect

January 13 Dwight Village Board Actions

by Madelyn Fogarty
madelynfogarty@yahoo.com

Village retail businesses are reminded that the Livingston County Schools Facility Sales Tax went into effect on January 1, 2014 and an additional one percent tax should be applied to qualifying purchases. The new tax law referendum was passed in the April 2013 Consolidated Election.

This new tax allows for the addition of a one cent tax on every dollar spent on qualifying retail purchases in Livingston County. The collected tax revenues are then distributed to schools in Livingston County based on student enrollment numbers.

Retail sales not subject to the new one percent tax include vehicles, boats and RVs, unprepared food, medicine, farm equipment, parts and farm inputs, and any item not currently taxed. School facility sales tax revenues can be used for infrastructure related items such as new school facilities, additions and renovations, safety and security improvements, or paying off building bonds. However, the monies cannot be used for salaries, instructional or operating costs.

In other business at the January 13 session of the Dwight Village Board of Trustees, the board learned that a newly formed organization which joins the forces of IMPACT Dwight, Dwight Main Street, the Dwight Economic Development Council and Dwight Chamber of Commerce recently elected Alex McWilliams as Chairman and Max Sulzberger as Vice-Chairman. Currently operating under the name of Dwight Economic Partnership, the group is combining efforts to form one united, and more efficient, organization. A (continued on page 8)

Dwight High School to Move to Traditional Schedule

New Course Offerings Considered

by Madelyn Fogarty
madelynfogarty@yahoo.com

Students at Dwight Township High School can anticipate a significant change beginning next year. At its January 15 session, the Board of Education indicated a schedule change proposal will receive official board approval in February.

DTHS Principal Dan Kaiser presented a formal proposal to the board for the adoption of a Traditional eight-period schedule at DTHS beginning with the 2014-15 school year.

Last month, Principal Kaiser presented the initial proposal to move from the current Block schedule to a Traditional schedule format. The district has been using the Block schedule format for 18 years.

A panel of 14 experienced faculty members worked with Principal Kaiser weighing all of the pros and cons of both scheduling options. Along with gaining additional instructional minutes, it was determined that moving to the Traditional schedule would provide greater continuity and daily connections which would benefit students. The change is not expected to reduce staff or class offerings. It would be implemented with the understanding that it would remain in place for a minimum of four years and would be evaluated on content delivery and student achievement.

The consensus of the board was to proceed with making the change to the Traditional schedule format with plans to affirm the action at its February session.

In another matter, Principal Kaiser presented a report from the school's nine member Curriculum Advisory Council which included three new course proposals.

The new courses would include Industrial Drafting, Anatomy and Physiology, and Beginning Guitar. Pending final approval, the new courses are planned to be offered beginning with the 2014-15 school year. The board expressed consensus to move forward with the new course offerings and is expected to also formally affirm this action in February.

In his financial report to the board, Superintendent Dr. Richard Jancek noted that the State of Illinois is getting further behind on its payments to the district. The ISBE Financial Reimbursement Information System report shows the State of Illinois currently owes the Dwight High School district $57,960.73.

The board also:

- agreed to a proposal allowing for the annual FFA ski trip to take place on Monday, February 17 (school holiday/President's Day), to Cascade Mountain in Wisconsin.

- approved the 2013-14 Certified Seniority List of 27 certified staff including 15 tenured staff with service in the district ranging from five to 24.5 years.

- affirmed amendment #5 to the 2012-2015 DEA/BOE Contract Agreement adding (continued on page 3)

Use "Tax Diversification" to Help Manage Retirement Income

You need to save and invest as much as possible to pay for the retirement lifestyle you've envisioned. But your retirement income also depends, to a certain degree, on how your retirement funds are taxed. And that's why you may be interested in tax diversification.

To understand the concept of tax diversification, you'll need to be familiar with how two of the most important retirement-savings vehicles — an IRA and a 401(k) — are taxed. Essentially, these accounts can be classified as either "traditional" or "Roth."

When you invest in a traditional IRA or 401(k), your contributions may be tax-deductible and your earnings can grow tax deferred. With a Roth IRA or 401(k), your contributions are not deductible, but your distributions can potentially be tax-free, provided you meet certain conditions. (Keep in mind, though, that to contribute to a Roth IRA, you can't exceed designated income limits. Also, not all employers offer the Roth option for 401(k) plans.)

Of course, "tax free" sounds better than "tax deferred," so you might think that a Roth option is always going to be preferable. But that's not necessarily the case. If you think your tax bracket will be lower in retirement than when you were working, a traditional IRA or 401(k) might be a better choice, due to the cumulative tax deductions you took at a higher tax rate. But if your tax bracket will be the same, or higher, during retirement, then the value of tax-free distributions from a Roth IRA or 401(k) may outweigh the benefits of the tax deductions you'd get from a traditional IRA or 401(k).

So making the choice between "traditional" and "Roth" could be tricky. But here's the good news: You don't necessarily have to choose, at least not with your IRA. That's because you may be able to contribute to both a traditional IRA and a Roth IRA, assuming you meet the Roth's income guidelines. This allows you to benefit from both the tax deductions of the traditional IRA and the potential tax-free distributions of the Roth IRA.

And once you retire, this "tax diversification" can be especially valuable. Why? Because when you have money in different types of accounts, you gain flexibility in how you structure your withdrawals — and this flexibility can help you potentially increase the amount of your after-tax disposable income. If you have a variety of accounts, with different tax treatments, you could decide to first make your required withdrawals (from a traditional IRA and 401(k) or other employer-sponsored plan), followed, in order, by withdrawals from your taxable investment accounts, your tax-deferred accounts and, finally, your tax-free accounts. Keep in mind, though, that you may need to vary your actual sequence of withdrawals from year to year, depending on your tax situation. For example, it might make sense to change the order of withdrawals, or take withdrawals from multiple accounts, to help reduce taxes and avoid moving into a different tax bracket.

Clearly, tax diversification can be beneficial. So after consulting with your tax and financial advisors, consider ways of allocating your retirement plan contributions to provide the flexibility you need to maximize your income during your retirement years.

Village of Dwight Non-Home Rule Sales Tax Referendum Questions and Answers

In December 2013, the Dwight Village Board of Trustees approved a recommendation to place a referendum on the ballot during the March 2014 Primary Election asking area voters to increase local sales tax which would be used strictly for infrastructure repairs. Following are questions/answers regarding the Non-Home Rule Sales Tax Referendum.

What is Non-Home Rule Sales Tax?

A Non-Home Rule Municipality (community with less than 25,000 people) may impose an additional sales tax up to 1% for capital improvement projects.

When is the referendum question being asked?

The Non-Home Rule Sales Tax Referendum Question will appear on the ballot during the Primary Election of March 18, 2014.

Why is the Village asking for an increase in the retail sales tax?

The Village Board began looking at the Sales Tax Referendum as an option to create a dedicated source of additional revenue to improve infrastructure: roads, water and sewer lines.

What is the Village asking for?

The Village is asking for a one half of one percent (0.5%), a half-cent, increase in non-home rule sales tax.

When would the tax increase take effect?

January 1, 2015

How much will the tax be if the referendum is approved?

With the one-half of one percent increase, the sales tax rate in the Livingston County portion of Dwight will be 7.75% and 6.75% in the Grundy County portion of the Village.

How much money will it raise?

At today's sales tax numbers, the one-half of one percent increase would generate approximately $300,000 additional dollars for the Village to repair and repave roads in Dwight, and replace water and sewer lines in the Village.

What will the additional money be used for?

All revenues received as a result of the Non-Home Rule Sales Tax Referendum will be used for infrastructure-related projects in accordance with State of Illinois' statute. An accelerated street resurfacing and reconstruction program is where the money would be spent initially.

Can the Village move the funds into other funds instead of using it to improve roads and other infrastructure?

Because the Village Board wanted to clarify to everyone how they would utilize the funds if approved they adopted Ordinance # 1341 which states they will use the funds for expenditure on public infrastructure: roads, water and sewer lines.

Will a Sales Tax Increase affect everything

I buy?

No. The Non-Home Rule Tax increase applies only to non-titled or non-registered tangible personal property. It does not apply to the sale of qualifying food, drug, and medical appliances (for example food purchased at the grocery store or prescription and non-prescription drugs) and vehicles.

How will the increase affect my shopping bill?

In the Livingston County portion of Dwight, a shopper purchasing $10 dollars' worth of goods would see the retail sales tax rise from $0.72 1/2 to $0.77 1/2. In the Grundy County portion of Dwight, (at Rt. 47 and I-55, in the Love's, McDonald's, BP/Burger King area) the tax on $10 worth of goods would rise from Sixty-two and 1/2 cents to Sixty-seven and 1/2 cents.

Will the Village's businesses be negatively affected by the Non-Home Rule Sales Tax?

Since the 0.5% increase is a modest one, it is not expected to deter Dwight residents or visitors from shopping Dwight first. It is estimated that visitors make up approximately 60-65% of the shoppers in Dwight.

What will happen if the referendum fails to pass?

Without the additional revenue, road capital improvement projects will remain as it currently is, with projects being done as money is available.

Cataract surgery....a lifestyle choice

A cataract is usually formed by the natural aging process causing the lens of the eye to get "cloudy"... like "looking through wax paper"... which results in decreased vision.

Most people with cataracts can improve their vision with glasses, but for the small percentage who have cataracts that truly interfere with the safety, comfort, and/or enjoyment of life (e.g. driving, reading, hobbies, sporting activities, television viewing, etc.)... and when glasses don't help... no-stitch, no-shot, no-patch cataract surgery may be the best choice...a choice that usually results in a return to normal activities and a renewed enthusiasm for life.

Retirement Readiness Checklist for Savers

Today, four out of five Americans are optimistic about their financial future, and of those who own retirement products, 97 percent agree that it feels good to know they are saving, according to a recent Lincoln Financial Group M.O.O.D. of America Study.

"One of the easiest ways people have to save for retirement is through their employer-sponsored retirement plan, like a 401(k) or 403(b) plan," says Chuck Cornelio, president of Retirement Plan Services for Lincoln Financial Group.

"It is critical that people receive the motivation and support they need to help them get on track and stay on track with their retirement savings goals."

Here are some simple ways to help you with retirement readiness:

- Sign up for a savings plan at work: If you're not enrolled in your plan, enroll today. Participation in an employer-sponsored retirement plan can help reduce your taxable income while building your savings. Contact your benefits administrator or human resources department with questions on how to get started. Enrollment can be the first step toward considering your own retirement savings goals and setting yourself up for a greater chance at success.

- Resist the temptation to borrow: We all know that things come up and that in the middle of an unexpected event, you may be tempted to borrow against your retirement plan savings. This is especially true during a down market. Resist the temptation. When you borrow against your plan, you may miss out on potential market gains.

- Save more as you make more: There are probably times in your life when you may receive extra cash from a tax refund, a bonus, a salary increase or some other pleasant surprise. Consider increasing your contribution every year if it's possible and saving any extras.

When you hit the maximum contribution level in your plan, a financial professional can help you find the right place to put additional savings.

- Save at least up to the company match: Many employers will match your contributions up to a certain percentage. Take advantage of these offers. Talk with your benefits administrator to learn more about what's available in your plan. When you don't take full advantage of a company match, you're leaving money on the table.

- Review investments with a financial professional: Schedule a retirement plan check-up at least once a year to assess where you stand against your personal retirement savings goals. It can help you stay on track and identify any changes that need to be made in order to achieve your savings goals.

"When it comes to saving for your retirement, don't hesitate," says Cornelio. "The sooner you start saving your money in an employer-sponsored plan or other retirement account, the better."

New Health Findings Can Help Combat Common Ailments

From high blood pressure to cancer, serious ailments often strike, despite our best efforts to maintain good health.

With the rapid pace of medical advancements and treatment options emerging, conventional medical wisdom can sometimes lag behind innovations in disease management. Furthermore, there's often little attention paid to nutrition's role in health conditions.

"Our healthcare system is a disease model, not a prevention model, and reimbursement is based upon sickness, not wellness. We need to better integrate all facets of care," says Dr. Steven V. Joyal, chief medical officer with Life Extension, Inc., an organization dedicated to increasing the functional human lifespan.

It's this thinking that spurred the creation of Life Extension's 2014 edition of the Disease Prevention and Treatment Book, which seeks to fill those gaps. From cancer to multiple sclerosis, the book offers 1400 pages of information on integrating pharmaceutical treatment options, nutritional support and lifestyle changes for optimal health. For example:

High Blood Pressure

A major risk factor for heart disease, stroke, congestive heart failure and kidney disease, high blood pressure threatens the life of every third American adult.

Intensive lifestyle changes can ease blood pressure management. When this isn't enough, pharmaceutical options can help. For example, blood pressure is best controlled with lower doses of multiple antihypertensive medications rather than a single large dose of medication. Furthermore, side effects can be greatly reduced.

"Many patients are lulled into a false sense of security by normal blood pressure readings at their periodic doctor's visits. But quite frequently, patients experience gaps in control, putting them at risk for stroke and heart attack," says Joyal.

Joyal recommends considering the following:

- With an inexpensive at-home blood pressure monitor, take readings at multiple times throughout the day, tracking values over time. Your doctor can determine whether to modify your treatment regimen based upon the results.

- Stay fit and exercise. A healthy body weight and high degree of cardiorespiratory fitness reduce hypertension risk, and if you already have high blood pressure, can help you achieve better control.

- Hold the salt. High sodium intake can make high blood pressure worse. Read labels. Even if you aren't reaching for salt, many pre-packaged convenience foods, meats and cheeses contain significant amounts of sodium.

- Get plenty of beneficial nutrients, especially potassium and magnesium, which are important for vascular health.

Rheumatoid Arthritis

Rheumatoid arthritis could pose more than just a risk to comfort. Systemic inflammation hastens the onset of other age-related diseases, including cardiovascular disease.

"For optimal longevity, we need to integrate lifestyle changes with pharmaceutical treatments, rather than blindly assume that all a patient needs is more medication," says Joyal.

In addition to doctor-prescribed treatments, Life Extension researchers have scoured medical literature, finding several nutrients that support health in rheumatoid arthritis patients:

- Fish oil
- Krill oil blend
- Gamma linolenic acid
- Vitamin D
- Vitamin B6
- Green tea extract
- Quercetin
- Folate

More information about integrating lifestyle changes into treatment plans for various medical challenges can be found at www.LifeExtension.com/dpt.

By taking advantage of new findings in medicine and science, optimal health may be better achieved.

Help For Heartburn

by Tresa Erickson

The older you get, the more heartburn you seem to experience.

Many acidic and high-fat foods irritate the stomach lining and reduce pressure in the lower sphincter muscle, compromising its ability to stop stomach acids from splashing back up into the esophagus and causing heartburn.

Spicy and fried foods are known for causing heartburn. Specific foods that may pose a problem for you include: Buffalo wings, Brownies, Butter cookies, Chicken nuggets, Chocolate, Coffee, Corn chips, Cottage cheese, Cranberry juice, Creamy/oily salad dressings, Doughnuts, Grapefruit juice, Ground beef, Ice cream, Lemons & lemonade, Liquor & wine, Macaroni & cheese, Mashed sirloin, Orange juice, Potato chips, Potato salad, Soda, Sour cream, Spaghetti with marinara sauce, Tea, Tomatoes.

Along with watching the foods you eat, you need to make some changes in your consumption of them. Eat slowly and eat less.

You might also want to keep some safe snacks around that you can eat. Some of the foods known for neutralizing stomach acid and keeping heartburn at bay include: Avocados, Bananas, Breads & cereals, Broccoli, Carrots, Crackers, Green beans, Oatmeal, Papayas, Peas, Pineapple, Rice.

There is no surefire, quick fix for heartburn. You can, however, keep it at bay by identifying what triggers it and eating in moderation.

5 Minutes*with Boma*Competitiveness . . .

Our society is soft. That statement basically sums up the rest of what I'm going to write. I bring this up because of all the reaction to Richard Sherman's interview after the Seattle-San Francisco game.

First off, why do reporters obsess with interviewing people right after a game ends, when the player's emotion is at its peak (especially when the game comes down to the last minute like this one did.) With that being said, yes, he was extremely arrogant to the point of obnoxiousness, but isn't that what sports are all about?

Sports exist because of this idea of competition, of wanting to be better than your opponent. You know how boring sports would be if everyone was extremely humble all the time, and no one had any self-confidence. Pretty soon we wouldn't even have sports; football would just be guys standing across the line from each other handing out compliments, and the team giving the best compliments wins. Is that what we really want from sports?

The leagues are always about "cleaning up their image," but what leads on ESPN when a fight breaks out in an NBA game? The game with the fight will ALWAYS be the headline. I'm not condoning violence, but the point is, that grittiness is needed for good sports.

Not only in professional sports, we as a society need to stop with the notion of "everybody is a winner," because that's not the case. Some people will never be as good as others at certain things. Meaning the 6th place ribbons at track events need to stop.

You know what you get if you're 6th place in a job interview for one job? Unemployment.

It just seems, that every day, another person is given a free pass. The world isn't soft. I don't know why we try to make it seem that way. The toughest- and strongest-willed people are the most successful. Creating cushions will only cause problems down the road.

The reason the Michael Jordan era of basketball was the best is because the league was much more competitive than it is now. Now guys are friends off the court, and in a lot of cases it looks like they are friends on the court. I think people are forgetting what makes sports the best drama on TV... competitiveness. I'm sure some people have opposing views here, and if you'd like to discuss, email me at: boma23@gmail.com

Gardner Village Board's First 2014 Meeting

by Donald Phillips

The Gardner Village Board opened their first meeting of 2014 with a question from Gary Kociss requesting information on placing video gaming in the Laundromat.

The board responded the state law, as currently written, requires the establishment to hold a liquor license or be a truck stop based on gallons of fuel storage. Commissioner Mike Serena requested updates on the medical marijuana and concealed carry laws.

Village Attorney Scott

Belt advised there have been no changes or updates from the state on either issue since they were last discussed.

Commissioner Dick Hileman advised he will be transferring monies in accounts and CD's in the coming months to make them better available.

Commissioner Terry Jensen advised he has filed his statement of economic interest with the Grundy County Clerk's office.

Village Engineer Guy Christensen provided draft drawings for the next phase of water main replacements and advised he is 60-70 percent complete on the plans. His plan is to replace up to the right-of-way of the Union Pacific Railroad and would like direction from the village regarding the mains in the easement through the grade school property. The plans should be ready to go to the EPA for permitting with bid opening before March 1.

Village Clerk Becky Pasternak presented certificates of appreciation from the Gardner Fire Protection District to the Village for their assistance during the January 5 snow storm.

Livingston County School Facility Tax in Effect

January 13 Dwight Village Board Actions

(from page 1) kick off meeting, in conjunction with Business after Hours, is planned for February 18 at the Country Mansion from 5 to 7 p.m. Regular meetings have been set for the first Monday of each month at 4 p.m. in the Dwight Public Services Complex. Everyone interested is welcome to attend.

A concern was raised regarding a recent decision by the Dwight Grade School Board to allow eight acres of a grassy area in the southwest portion of the school's property to be used as farm ground. Several years ago, the annual Fourth of July fireworks display was moved from the high school athletic field to the grade school property. The loss of the eight acres of grass area could mean the event may no longer be able to be held on the DGS property due to a requirement that firework displays be set back 700 feet from any building. The village plans to meet with school officials to discuss the situation.

In his report to the board, Dwight Chief of Police Tim Henson recognized the efforts of village road crews during the recent winter storm and thanked these village employees for a "great job." Chief Henson also acknowledged DeLong Ford for providing Dwight police with a 4-wheel drive vehicle to assist with travel needs during the latest winter storm. Henson also informed the board that Dwight Police Officer Mark

The next meeting of the Dwight Village Board of Trustees will be Monday, January 27, 6:30 p.m. in the Public Services Complex. Meetings are open to the public.

Dwight's John Bachand has claimed our second to last Paper Bowl prize of the season. He nailed down a solid 12-2 record in week 19, and he has been handed a $100 Paper Bowl gift certificate. The final Paper Bowl entries of the year have been collected and are currently being graded. It has been a fabulous season of winning. We thank our sponsors for allowing us to play our games with you. We thank our swamis for their participation. They have spent countless hours of prognosticating and delivering their picks to our sponsors. Let's do it again sometime.

One hundred and fifty-nine entries were counted in week 19. Eleven swamis finished the week with 11-3 scores. They were Dwight's Gary Thorson, Rebecca Zappa, Derek Piper, Mark German (2X), Glenda German and Chad Horrie, Gardner's Tracy Horrie, Buckingham's Jerome Schneider, Herscher's Tony Webster and Plano's Jason Bendig. Twenty-four entries finished 10-4; 21 were 9-5; 31 scored 806 marks and the remaining entries were .500 or below.

The winning isn't over just yet. Once again The Paper will play The Big Paper Bowl. The prizes are adding up as we speak for our grand finale. Keep your eyes fixed on next week's The Paper for all the juicy information.

Chatsworth Corner

by Mare Reardanz

It's funny how some things work out for some people, and not so funny for others. Our friend, neighbor, and business woman of 22 years, Anita Fredericks isn't laughing. Anita's house caught fire last Tuesday morning in the middle of that horrendous polar vortex.

According to Chatsworth Fire Chief Galen Schaffer, the Chatsworth Fire Department was aided by Piper City, Forrest, and Pontiac companies to contain the fire. However, in the excessively cold temperatures and 45 mph winds it was a difficult struggle. Fire companies battled the two-story fire from approximately 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. with another call to extinguish a rekindle at 4 p.m. Some of the other challenges in fighting that fire were keeping the trucks and firemen from freezing.

Fredericks lost everything. Everything is a big concept. She lost almost everything last May when another spring storm ripped the entire roof off the apartment over her business, Rick & Anita's Tap. "With the roof gone, what didn't blow away got soaked repeatedly by the rains," Fredericks said. Waiting for insurance company adjusters and then repair men left her devastated. Needing a place to live, Anita bought another house in Chatsworth. Reportedly the second oldest house in Chatsworth. It was originally two separate houses joined together after the Beet Factory closed many years ago. The old place had lots of "charm." She had been living there only a few months, slowly moving in what little she had left, and making the old house a home again. "We were having breakfast at the J&J Cafe in town when a neighbor came in and said my house was on fire," remembers Fredericks. "Your heart just stops beating for a moment. Within minutes the strong winds had the flames shooting through the roof."

But Anita is a tough lady. After the initial shock wore off, the feelings of being sad and alone were quickly replaced with the strength and compassion from her many friends and family members in town. Fredericks said the sadness lessened when so many people brought her clothes and donations that very night.

Jenise Galloway, one of Anita's closest friends, organized a "shower" for her. Rick &

Petitions at The Paper

Come In and Sign Up

by Tom Tock

Three-hundred-thousand signatures are necessary to place an initiative on the November 2014 ballot in Illinois which will provide voters a direct voice in the way the boundaries of their election districts are determined.

Presently, the majority party -- be it Democratic, Republican, or Independent -- has the right to determine those boundaries, which means the majority party can outline districts in a manner that will help to insure the election of its candidates.

This is known as "gerrymandering", and it's unfair.

The politicians in power have fun with it every ten years following the census.

Concerned citizens of Illinois are working to eliminate gerrymandering by placing a referendum on the November ballot . . . a referendum that would support the formation of an independent redistricting commission . . . one that would not be controlled by any political party.

Petitions to place such a referendum on the November ballot are available for voters' signatures in the office at The Paper. The 300,000 signatures must be filed by May 4.

Voters are invited to come in and sign up.

PUBLIC NOTICE

NOTICE TO ELDERLY (OVER 65) AND HANDICAPPED VOTERS REGARDING THE GENERAL PRIMARY ELECTION, MARCH 18, 2014

Notice is hereby given to elderly over 65 and handicapped persons that the County of Livingston has compiled with federal and state election laws to promote the fundamental right to vote by improving access to polling places and election day voting as follows:

All polling places are now wheelchair accessible

If your polling place is difficult for an elderly or handicapped person to manage, there are some alternatives:

1. On request by phone or letter, the county clerk will supply you with a proper affidavit for a voter unable to enter the polling place on Election Day. This must be completed and returned to the County Clerk's Office no later than 4:30 p.m. on March 17, 2014. On election day two judges from your polling place, of opposite parties, will bring the ballot sheet outside the entrance, proving that you are within a distance of not more than 50 (fifty) feet from the door to the polling place.

2. If an elderly or disabled voter has difficulty in reading the ballot sheet he or she may ask for assistance at the polling place, or may bring a friend or relative to assist. After filling out the proper affidavit, the friend or relative or two judges of opposite parties, can assist you.

3. A request can be made by phone or by mail to the County Clerk's Office for an absentee ballot. When the request is received an application for an absentee ballot will be mailed, or you can download an application on line by going to livingstoncountyil.gov. This application must be filled out and mailed or hand delivered to the County Clerk, who will then mail the absentee ballot to the voter. After voting the absentee ballot must be mailed back to the County Clerk's Office, so it can be counted on Election Day.

4. Illinois election law allows for early, grace period, and absentee voting to be conducted in the County Clerk's Office. The clerk's office will be open from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 Noon on Saturday, February 15, 2014 for voter registration and absentee voting, and on Saturday, March 15 for early, grace period and absentee voting. Voting will take place during the regular office hours Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. with extended hours to 6:00 p.m. on Wednesday, March 5 and March 12.

5. The County Clerk's Office will offer two methods for voting, the AccuVote optical scan unit and TSX electronic voting system.

Hospice of Kankakee Valley will offer a volunteer training on Saturday, February 15 and 22, from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. at the Hospice of Kankakee Valley office located at 482 Main St. NW in Bourbonnais.

Volunteers at Hospice of Kankakee Valley (HKV) will work with the patients and staff at HKV. HKV has provided end of life care for 32 years in the Kankakee area and strives to act out its motto: Our family, caring for yours. offer support to their families.

Those who are interested in volunteering are encouraged to sign up for volunteer training where they will have the opportunity to learn new skills, meet new people, and help make a difference. Valley is currently interviewing volunteer candidates. The last day to apply for the upcoming volunteer training is Monday, February 10. ## Radon Action Month – Have You Tested Your Home?

January is National Radon Action Month and the Grundy County Health Department is urging homeowners to test their homes for the dangerous gas. Radon is a colorless, odorless, and tasteless gas that is produced by the decay of uranium and radium in the soil. Radon rises through the soil and can enter buildings through small cracks in the foundation or floors, gaps around pipes, or sump pits. This gas is naturally occurring and can be found at various levels throughout Illinois and Grundy County. The most recent reports from Illinois Emergency Management Agency show that 41% of tested Illinois homes and 38% of tested Grundy County homes had radon levels exceeding the recommended level for taking action (4pCi/L). Long-term exposure to radon gas at this elevated level can be dangerous.

Although exposure to radon gas causes no immediate noticeable symptoms, it can be deadly. Radon is the second leading cause of lung cancer and even non-smokers can be at risk of lung cancer from radon exposure. It is estimated that 21,000 people die from radon related lung cancer in the United States each year.

Testing is the only way to determine if radon is present in your home or building. Test kits are easy to use and affordable, and they are available at the Grundy County Health Department at a cost during January for two test kits. Test kits are also available at some hardware stores.

The best time to test is during the cold-weather months, when homes and buildings are closed and radon is more likely to build to unhealthy levels. If you have any questions about radon, the radon testing process or your radon test results, please contact the Grundy County Health Department's Environmental Health Division at (815) 941-3115. For more information on radon, visit www.epa.gov/radon or www.state.il.us/iema/.

Radon testing is simple and inexpensive. Knowing your risk can help you protect the lives of you and your family from the cancer causing substance.

"It's A Pain In The Back"

by Ronda Addy

Individuals suffering from back pain due to a herniated disc, degenerative disc disease or some other spinal problem used to have to endure major costly surgical procedures to get relief.

Thanks to innovations in the field of medicine, however, they now have other options like spinal decompression therapy. Spinal decompression therapy is a non-surgical procedure that reduces the loading of the spine to treat lower back, leg, neck and arm pain. It has proven effective for treating degenerative discs, facet syndrome, herniated discs, sciatica and spinal stenosis.

The therapy involves the proper placement of a patient on a specially designed computerized table. The problem disc is isolated and placed under pressure to create a vacuum effect. This repositions the disc back where it should be and creates a fresh blood supply, which aids in healing.

Before starting treatment, the physician should go over the patient's medical history, x-rays and MRI/CT scans to make sure they are a good candidate for the therapy.

Spinal decompression therapy is not recommended for anyone suffering from abnormal posture, loss of muscle control, musculoskeletal conditions, spinal curves or severe osteoporosis. It is also not recommended for the elderly, pregnant, severely obese or anyone who has undergone spinal surgery but still has an unstable spine.

Once a patient has been identified as a good candidate for the therapy, an individual plan will be created for them that will treat their specific needs. Treatment sessions usually occur three to five times a week and last one hour. In most cases, patients need 10 to 30 treatments.

Although patients may experience a reduction in pain in the first few sessions, they should continue the treatment in order to heal completely.

Spinal decompression therapy has a 70% success rate. Anyone suffering from back problems should speak to their doctor about undergoing the therapy. It is not for everyone, but it may help in some cases. Some people, in fact, who have undergone surgery and still experience pain have found spinal decompression therapy to be helpful.
