Dwight's

Spring Cleaning

Recyling, Town Cleanup Saturday

The coming of spring brings new life, and the escape from the confines of winter. The throwing open of closed windows and sound of lawn mowers fills the weekend mornings. In the spirit of "Spring Cleaning," this weekend will afford Dwight residents the opportunity to shake off the dust.

The Dwight Economic Alliance will be sponsoring a Town-Wide Volunteer Community Cleanup on April 26, from 9 a.m. to noon. Residents of Dwight are asked to chip in and help clean up yards, parks and the streets of the village. The DEA asks that volunteers meet in the downtown park on East Main Street, wearing yard work clothes and work gloves. Jobs to be performed include yard work, picking up trash and helping with the recycling effort. Rakes are also urged to be taken along if you have one, and they are asking people to take a friend, in an effort to spread out the workload.

In addition, New Life Electronics Recycling, Inc. will be holding a FREE Electronics Recycling event at the East Main Street parking lot in Downtown Dwight. Televisions, Computers, Monitors, Printers, and a variety of electronics will be accepted. Batteries will be accepted and recycled. Basically, if it has a plug, they'll take it!

If you're worried about your private data, all hard drives will be wiped clean according to the Illinois EPA guidelines with a data destruction program that meets Department of Defense standards. If you are unable to lift and need assistance with a large item, contact the Dwight Economic Alliance at 815-584-1830 to help arrange for a pickup. For other questions, you can email info@nlerine.com.

Then, after you're done in your yard, helping your neighbor, or just sprucing up the neighborhood park, everyone is invited to stop in at Turtle's Tap in Downtown Dwight to enjoy Pizza and Pop, and relax for the rest of the day!

The following Monday, April 28, the Village will be providing FREE lawn waste pickup at the curb.

Burning in Gardner Discussed

The Gardner Village Board opened their regular meeting on April 14 with discussion on the purchase of two additional cabinets for the village archives. The board is interested in purchasing the cabinets; however room in the council chambers is becoming limited and a location for the cabinets needs to be determined.

Two residents addressed the board to suggest addressing hours for burning brush in the village. Commissioner Mike Serena commented the Village allows residents to burn whatever items are generated on their property. Serena and commissioner Dick Hileman commented the board has considered curbside pick-up for the yard waste but passed based on cost. Hileman also commented the current garbage contract is up in November and the cost will likely increase.

Commissioner and fire chief Terry Jensen advised the residents they can call the Grundy county sheriff's department and without leaving their name, can ask for a fire to be extinguished.

Sergeant Josh Slattery addressed the board, delivering a report from the Grundy county sheriff's department. Slattery reported on several investigations ongoing in the village, including the S. Jackson St. residential burglary, 22 traffic stops, two domestics, 14 extra patrol requests, several calls for possible drug activity which were passed on to the

Odell Village Board Agrees to Vacate 3rd St., West of 66

Village Attorney Ed Legner explained to the Odell Village Board members at the April 14 meeting that the section of 3rd Street lying west of Route 66 was not vacated years ago when Route 66 was constructed.

An Ordinance to vacate the section of 3rd Street west of Route 66 was presented to the Board, with Trustee Herman Fearman moving to approve the Ordinance; second by Brian Verdun. All six Board members approved during roll call vote.

The regular Board meeting was held in the Village Hall Council Room with Mayor Terry Joyner presiding. Also present were staff member Iris Thorne; Village Attorney Ed Legner, Nick Ehrgott; and guests: Sgt. John Mitchell and Brian Hoffmeyer.

Mayor Joyner led the Pledge of Allegiance. Fearman moved to approve the minutes of the March 10 Board meeting as printed; second by Trustee Verdun. All approved by roll call vote.

Iris Thorne reported that the treasurer, Jim Rebholz, had supplied copies of a YTD Fund Summary and an MTD Treasurer's Report. Bank balances for the month ending March 31 are as follows:

Odell Checking - $40,057.99
Odell Savings - $80,120.99

Illinois Funds Gen

Fund Checking - $250,944.60

Illinois Funds

MFT Checking - $111,808.36

General Fund

CD's - $224,019.60

Odell Tourism - $23,516.16

The treasurer's report was approved by roll call vote.

Jamie Johnson moved to approve and pay all bills on Board Listing Report #771, representing all due bills for the Village for April 2014, and Board Listing Report #772, representing all due bills for Tourism for April 2014; second by Brian Verdun. It was approved by roll call vote.

Sgt. John Mitchell reported that according to the March 2014 Police Activity Report there were 18 calls; one warning and one citation issued.

Attorney Legner stated that he had reviewed the revised garbage contract. He believes all is revised as per the Village's requests, except for the paragraph on bulky waste. The paragraph may have been left in by mistake when the contract was retyped. The garbage contract was tabled until next month.

An Ordinance amending the Village Subdivision Ordinance exempting some lots from the requirement of Platting prior to the division of land was presented to the Board. Following discussion, Trustee Verdun moved to approve the Amendment; second by Trustee Fearman, and approved by roll call vote, with one voting "present."

Brian Hoffmeyer, representing FOP Lodge #186, submitted a request to hold a Special Olympics 5K Run in Odell May 16, 2015.

Wykes moved, and Fearman seconded, to allow the Run and all Board members approved.

Are You Ready? Let's Go!

Mississippi Gulf Coast sign with ice and snow.

Gulfport Mississippi sunset.

by Marty and Geri Bilecki
In the words of the immortal group of the 1950's - Bill Haley's Comets - "let's go." It's spring - spring and we can forget about "Let it snow - Let it snow." The Mother Road awaits us and the thousands of visitors from here and around the world. What a treasure we are fortunate to have right under our feet and wheels.

Since our last report, we have carried the message all the way down to the Gulf Coast to escape the effects of winter. A new territory for us, we went for the first time, west of the Mississippi in the deep south through Mississippi, Louisiana and southern Texas!

Would have gone to Amarillo to visit with "Crocodile Lile" and Route 66 until we found out we were still 800 miles away. A wonderful "Oldies Cruise" out of Houston had us dancing to the tunes we love best.

Back home again in Illinois, we are looking forward to the "Red Carpet" corridor weekend on Route 66. This is an event many communities along 66 are looking to duplicate. It has turned out to be such a success with cities and villages participating with all different offerings along the way.

They all come up with such unusual and eye-catching ideas.

The Czech group returns to Illinois with their spring tour in May. After completing the first part of their journey in Los Angeles, another group will join them from the Czech Republic and will be filming a documentary all the way back to Chicago. The first film by Zdenek Jurasek, President of the Route 66 Association of the Czech Republic, was an outstanding success in Europe and he has chosen to film many different and unusual locations along the eight states to take the word back to Europe. In Illinois, he will be filming in

Yes, It's a Scam

You've just won a foreign lottery!

Sounds too good to be true, right? Chances are it is.

It goes down like this: someone calls, e-mails or notifies you by mail that all you have to do is mail or wire a small amount for taxes and fees to claim your prize. But it should be known that no legitimate lottery would ask you for money to claim a prize, so you are urged to never wire or send money to anyone, anywhere, who says you've won a prize.

Older Americans are often targeted with these scams, so inform your loved ones of the consequences and make sure you take the proper protective measures.

If you are approached by such a scammer, contact your local police and the Federal Trade Commission about the incident.

To learn more about foreign lottery scams, visit www.deliveringtrust.com and www.aarp.org/protectyourfinances.

Sandy Kokaly is a full-time paramedic generally working 24 hours on/48 hours off shifts. The shift begins at 7:00 a.m. She has volunteered or worked for the Village of Dwight for 32 years.

She started as an Emergency Medical Technician Basic in 1982, full time as an EMT - Intermediate in 1994 and became a paramedic in 1995. At that time, Dwight EMS became an Advanced Life Support service.

Sandy is a licensed Phlebotomist, an EKG Technician, AHA Instructor, and a Child Safety Seat Technician. When asked why she is a member of EMS, Sandy replied, "My husband and I entered EMS to help people in the Village of Dwight and surrounding areas. It is heartwarming to calm those who are sick or injured, or in need of comforting words. We are always learning new skills and refining the old ones."

Sandy and her husband Joe have lived in Dwight for 42 years. They have two daughters, Sandy and Katy. Sandy and her husband Jeneson and their four children currently live in Bellwood, but have traveled and done mission work in Africa and India. Katy and her husband Kurt live in Bloomington with their two sons.

The following poem is used with permission from the author Tami Bulik, and sums up Sandy's feelings about the years she has spent in the emergency medical field.

What are these tears falling from my eyes? They are the hopes and dreams of a mother's love as we tried to breathe life back into her first-born son. What are these tears falling from my eyes? They are the broken promises, hurtful words, and fists thrown at a beautiful young woman who collapsed in my arms as her soul slipped away to booze and drugs.

What are these tears falling from my eyes? They are the football scholarships and future play-off dreams of the high school football star thrown off the back of a 4-wheeler racing down a gravel road. What are these tears falling from my eyes? They are the years of love and wisdom passed down three generations from the kind and gentle soul of a true cowboy who took his last breath in my presence.

Sandy Kokaly - EMS

What are these tears falling from my eyes? They are the homemade recipes and stories of the past from the gentle soul of a grandmother who slipped away quietly in the back of my ambulance while I held her hand and brushed away her last tear. What are these tears falling from my eyes?

They are the giggles and laughter of a precious five year old angel thrown from the window of her mother's mangled car. They are the panicked screams and cries for help coming from the mouths of teenagers trapped inside their car that was T-boned on the highway.

What are these tears falling from my eyes? They are the horror and the pain in a little boy's face as he heard us say there was nothing we could do to bring back his dad. They are the whispered prayers and silent stares of the family watching us perform CPR on their loved one. What are these tears falling from my eyes? They are the joy and relief in a father's eyes as we help bring his first born baby into a world full of love.

What are these tears falling from my eyes? They are every patient I have ever taken care of. They are every patient I have yet to meet. They are mothers and fathers and sisters and brothers. They are part of me and they cleanse me...What are these tears falling from my eyes? They are the reason I can go out and do it all over again and again...

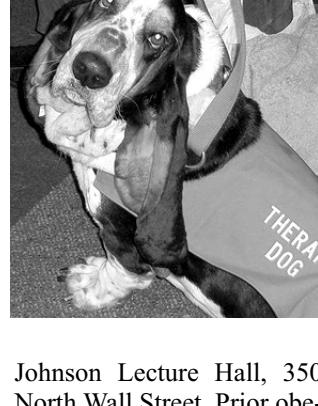

Sandy has one line she would like to add: What are these tears falling from my eyes? They are for the times I have missed my daughters' concerts, ball games or birthday parties to answer someone's call for help. I hope and pray they understand I love them most of all.

Increase in Burglaries in Livingston County

The Livingston County Sheriff's Police are reporting an increase in burglaries to homes, vehicles, and other buildings; some during the daylight hours.

The following steps are recommended to deter this type of criminal activity:

- Ensure all doors and windows are locked.
- Ensure your home and auto-security systems are in working order.
- Ensure your garage is locked and also vehicles parked inside.
- Ensure items of value are not in plain view inside a vehicle.
- Ensure outside lighting, which is essential for security, is on during hours of darkness.

An increase in phone scams has also been reported throughout the county. Scammers claiming to be relatives needing money for emergencies, bail money or "to get back home from a trip" have been reported. Typically, these criminals prey on the elderly; but anyone is at risk.

Phone scammers may

request funds through money orders, credit card information or refillable credit cards. Contact your local law enforcement agency to confirm the validity of these requests.

Phone scams for lottery earnings are also being reported. These scams occur when the victim is told he or she has just won a lottery or sweepstakes and the taxes or a "hold" payment is needed.

To complete the scam credit card information, money orders, or other forms of payment is then requested.

Additionally, Facebook and Skype, (social media) are being used to victimize people through extortion. This crime occurs when the targeted victim is threatened with the release of personal information via social media, unless a payment is made. Social media users are advised to never release/divulge personal financial information on any media venue.

These measures may help protect your property and valuable assets.

provisions of the law regarding restrictions on carrying at special events. Building inspector Dean Rankovich, who was in attendance at the meeting in the gallery, stated to the board that if they instituted a rule prohibiting employees from carrying a concealed weapon on Village business, he would quit his position. Rankovich contends he works 24/7 for the village and the rule would prohibit him from carrying at any time in the village. Belt also advised the board regarding several aspects of the medical marijuana law regarding impairment and CDL operation.

Belt presented research information regarding boats and other large vehicles parked on property other than that of the owner of the vehicle. Belt reported there is one ordinance that addresses boats and references campers and trailers and gives very specific conditions.

Commissioner Hileman opened a discussion on abandoned and foreclosed houses and bills owed to the village related to the properties. Rankovich reported there are currently 13 houses in the village he has posted as uninhabitable. Belt commented there are provisions in the ordinances to address these situations.

Hileman suggested to the board that based on the lack of restrooms in the flea market at 53, 126, and Main St.,

South Wilmington Grade School Students Create Class Quilt

The Sixth, Seventh, and Eighth grade classes at South Wilmington Grade School have been excited about their Reading recently.

Students, under the direction of Mrs. Anna Simms, have been reading a different book every day to hear a variety of stories from many different genres. A book a day? That's right. They have been reading picture books.

Thanks to a grant from Grundy County Community Foundation, a new Literary Elements kit has become part of their Literature daily work. These picture books are analyzed by the students and used to better understand literary elements such as theme, plot, and point of view.

The students recently learned about characterization by reading the book Show Way, by Jacqueline Woodson. Students then took this knowledge and idea of using freedom quilts to move along the Underground Railroad and created their own characterization quilt squares.

Students presented their squares to their peers and explained the meaning in the designs. The squares were put together to create a class quilt.

This is one of the many projects and lessons that have been used in conjunction with the toolkit purchased from the generous grant.

Turn Your Retirement "Vision" into Reality

Retirement can be an exciting, active time of your life. But if you're going to get the full benefits from your retirement years — which could last two, or even three, decades — you'll need to have a vision for what you want to do. And to transform this vision into reality, you'll need to take a "holistic" approach — one that involves a financial strategy, clear communications with family members and an awareness of the challenges that may stand in your way.

To articulate and achieve your vision, ask yourself a series of questions, such as the following:

What do I want to do? When you retire, do you plan on traveling around the world? Purchasing a vacation home? Pursuing your hobbies? Or maybe you're even thinking of opening a small business. Clearly, you have many options — and you'll need to be aware that some choices are going to be more costly than others. If you can identify how you want to spend your retirement years and then put a "price tag" on your goal — or at least come up with a pretty good estimate of how much money you'll need each year — you can then create an appropriate investment strategy. Such a strategy will include both your need for growth — during your pre-retirement and retirement years — and your need for income, especially during your retirement years. Your investment strategy will also need to be based on your risk tolerance, family situation and time horizon — how many years you have until your retirement.

What "roadblocks" might I encounter? As you work to achieve your retirement vision, you may well encounter some "roadblocks" along the way. One significant roadblock is the amount of health care expenses you might face during retirement. Many people think Medicare will cover everything, but that's not the case — in fact, you could easily spend a few thousand dollars each year, out of pocket, for health care costs. And since these costs typically rise as you move further into retirement, you'll need a reasonable portion of your assets to be allocated to investments with the potential for rising income. Even beyond normal health care costs, though, you'll need to be aware that you could eventually need some type of long-term care, such as a stay in a nursing home or assistance from a home health aide. These costs can be enormous; to cope with them, you need to prepare well ahead of time, so you may want to consult with your financial advisor for possible solutions.

How can I protect my family? Your retirement vision can't just involve yourself, or even just yourself and your spouse. To fully enjoy your retirement years, you'll want to know that you are helping to protect your grown children from financial and emotional burdens that could fall on them should you become incapacitated in some way. Among the steps you might consider taking is establishing a durable power of attorney, which allows you to appoint an agent to manage your financial affairs, make health care decisions or conduct other business for you during your incapacitation. Consult with your legal advisor about creating a durable power of attorney.

You will find that having your retirement vision come to fruition can be a great feeling. So, do whatever it takes to make it happen.

Source of Drinking Water
The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally-occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and can pickup substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity.
Contaminants that may be present in source water include:
- Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, which may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations, and wildlife.
- Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally-occurring or result from urban storm water runoff, industrial or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming.
- Pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture, urban storm water runoff, and residential uses.
- Organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can also come from gas stations, urban storm water runoff, and septic systems.
- Radioactive contaminants, which can be naturally-occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and mining activities.

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the EPA's Safe Drinking Water Hotline at (800) 426-4791.

In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations which limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. FDA regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water which must provide the same protection for public health.

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800) 426-4791.

If present, elevated levels of lead can cause serious health problems, especially for pregnant women and young children. Lead in drinking water is primarily from materials used in plumbing. We cannot control the variety of materials used in plumbing components. When your water has been sitting for several hours, you can minimize the potential for lead exposure by flushing your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using water for drinking. If you are concerned about lead in your water, you may wish to have your water tested. Information is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline or at <http://www.epa.gov/safewater/lead>.

Source Water Assessment

We want our valued customers to be informed about their water quality. If you would like to learn more, please feel welcome to attend any of our regularly scheduled meetings. The source water assessment for our supply has been completed by the Illinois EPA. If you would like a copy of this information, please stop by City Hall or call our water operator at 815-998-2133. To view a summary version of the completed Source Water Assessments, including: Importance of Source Water; Susceptibility to Contamination Determination; and documentation/recommendation of Source Water Protection Efforts, you may access the Illinois EPA website at <http://www.epa.state.il.us/cgi-bin/wp/swap-fact-sheets.pl>.

To determine Odell's susceptibility to groundwater contamination, a Well Site Survey, published in 1992 by the Illinois EPA, and Source Water Protection Plan were reviewed. Based on the information contained in these documents, six potential sources of groundwater contamination are present that could pose a hazard to groundwater pumped by the Odell community water supply wells. These include four below ground fuel storage, a former petroleum storage facility, and a pesticide/herbicide application overuse area located upstream from the Illinois EPA determined that the Wells #3 and #4 are not susceptible to VOC or NOC contamination. This determination is based on a set of criteria including monitoring conducted at the entry point to the distribution system, and the available hydrogeologic data for the wells. In anticipation of the U.S. EPA's proposed Ground Water Rule, the Illinois EPA has determined that Odell's community water supply wells are not vulnerable to viral contamination. This determination is based upon the evaluation of the following criteria during the Vulnerability Waiver Process: the community's wells are properly constructed with sound integrity and proper site conditions; there is a hydrogeologic barrier that restricts pathogen movement; all potential routes and sanitary defects have been mitigated such that the source water is adequately protected; monitoring data did not indicate a history of disease outbreak; and the sanitary survey of the water supply did not indicate a viral contamination threat. However, having stated this, the EPA is proposing to require states to identify systems in karst, gravel and fractured rock aquifer systems as sensitive. Water systems utilizing these aquifer types would be required to perform routine source water monitoring. Because the community's wells are constructed in a confined aquifer, which should provide an adequate degree of protection to prevent the movement of pathogens into the wells, well hydraulics were not considered to be a significant factor in the vulnerability determination.

2013 Regulated Contaminants Detected

Water Quality Test Results

Maximum Contaminant Level Goal or MCLG:	The level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.
Maximum Contaminant Level or MCL:	The highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.
Maximum residual disinfectant level goal or MRDGL:	The level of a drinking water disinfectant below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MRDGLs do not reflect the benefits of the use of disinfectants to control microbial contaminants.
Maximum residual disinfectant level or MRDL:	The highest level of a disinfectant allowed in drinking water. There is convincing evidence that addition of a disinfectant is necessary for control of microbial contaminants.
Definitions:	The following tables contain scientific terms and measures, some of which may require explanation.
ppb:	micrograms per liter or parts per billion - or one ounce in 7,350,000 gallons of water.
na:	not applicable.
Avg:	Regulatory compliance with some MCLs are based on running annual average of monthly samples.
ppm:	milligrams per liter or parts per million - or one ounce in 7,350 gallons of water.

5 Minutes with BomaBest Time of Year

I might have written about this topic last year, but it's worth writing about again due to its awesomeness. Basically, this is the best time of the year, bar none.

Primarily for sports, but the weather, too, obviously. Really, though, as Chicago fans right now, you have a minimum of three teams currently in competition. (Four if you're weird and like both the Sox AND the Cubs.) Three for the normal people. Then, you go and build off of that and two of those three teams are currently in the playoffs, the Bulls and the Blackhawks. On a bad note, neither of the Chicago teams in the playoffs has won a game, but hopefully that will change tonight (Monday).

All that put together makes this the best time of the year. Sports is the best drama that exists in life because for the most part the outcome can't be predicted. This is awesome because even if you're not a sports fan you can be a fan of sports, because you're a fan of drama.

Normally, the motto is to get outside and do something; but in this case, stay inside and enjoy the amazingness that is playoff sports. Win or go home; nothing beats it.

SPRING Car Care

Clean for Spring

By Craig W. Armstrong

Spring cleaning is a term most of us have heard. It means that you have spent the winter stuck inside, letting the dust pile up and the dirt get ground into the carpet, and now it's time to clean up. But, there is another place where you spend a lot of time that gets even dirtier than your home—your vehicle. Vehicles take the punishment of winter on both the inside and the outside.

Snow, sleet and most of all salt cover your vehicle in the winter, and by the time spring rolls around, it needs more than a run through the automatic car wash. Your vehicle deserves the hands-on approach. The soap you use to wash your car can be ordinary dishwashing liquid or special soap designed especially for washing vehicles. The point is, roll up your sleeves and give it a good wash. Start on the roof and work your way out. Wash everything—get the tires and side view mirrors, get the headlights and the bumper, get every inch of the vehicle.

Once the outside is done, it's time to tackle the interior. For many people, the car is where they spend a good part of their work day, and it shows. For some people, the vehicle is used to transport kids to school and activities, and it shows. Start with a garbage bag and collect all the cups, fast food containers, pens, business cards, half eaten doughnuts, last week's spelling test, action figures, soda cans and the garage door opener that you yelled at your spouse for losing.

After the garbage and stuff is collected, pull out the floor mats and plug in the vacuum. Try to get the big stuff like paperclips and French fries by hand, then start sucking up the rest. Don't forget behind and under the seats as well. If you are like most people, you'll probably find an average of $3 in change.

Next, clean the seats, dashboard, doors and console. If the seats are vinyl or leather, many different types of cleaners can be used. If it is fabric, you will need a good upholstery cleaner. A nice way to top off a good interior cleaning is with an air freshener.

Returning to the outside of the vehicle, there are many products available to clean your tires. These products will give your tires a wet and shiny look.

Finally, you may consider waxing or polishing your vehicle. Waxing a car is in essence adding a layer of protection. Waxing will add shine to the car and give it that wet look, but it will also protect the car from the elements and ultraviolet light.

When you polish a car, you are cleaning it. Polishing eliminates scratches, rust, dirt and wax. It contains abrasives that actually remove a thin layer of the car's paint. Polishing also brings out the color and adds shine. Follow the directions on the bottle when waxing or polishing.

Spring is a good time to start driving fresh and clean. Clean your vehicle now and make room for beach balls, flip flops, lawn chairs and coolers later.

Used Oil Drive in Morris May 17

Have you recently changed the oil or looking for a place to safely dispose of that used oil stockpile in your garage? The Grundy County Soil & Water Conservation District (SWCD) will be holding its Annual Used Oil Drive on Saturday, May 17, from 9:00 a.m. to noon at the USDA Service Center parking lot located at 3605 N. Illinois Rt. 47 in Morris.

Participants will be asked to drop off their used oil and are required to take their containers home with them.

They can be used to collect oil for next year's oil drive. Do not take gas or paint thinner as these will not be accepted.

However, antifreeze and used oil filters will be accepted, but must be kept separate from the oil.

If you have any questions or are not available the day of the pick-up and would like information about recycling your used oil, call the Grundy County SWCD at 815-942-0359, ext. 3, to speak with Brooke or Natalie.

Finding the Right Mechanic

by Lauren Lindley

Finding the right mechanic is important for the care and maintenance of your vehicle. "You need someone who is honest and does the repairs as needed. They have to be able to prioritize the maintenance in an efficient manner. It's Safety, Reliability and then Maintenance," explains Jeff Lee of J & R Service which is located in Gardner and Diamond.

Making sure the shop you go to is honest and someone you can trust is key. Jeff advises that if you have found that shop already, stick with them.

J & R Service strives to do repairs right the first time at a fair price. The goal is to make sure you don't have to come back for that same problem again. Running their business with all this in mind has helped them expand to two shops now, and they continue to grow.

SPRING Car Care

Inside and Out

By Tresa Erickson

Whether you're selling or maintaining your car, a good detail job can go a long way in keeping it looking its best. You can undertake the thorough cleaning yourself or you can take advantage of the services offered at thousands of auto detailers nationwide. Whatever route you take, you can expect the following areas to be covered.

Exterior

A car's exterior can take a real beating over the years. Most exterior detail jobs involve the cleaning, polishing and protecting of many facets of a car's exterior, including the paint, chrome trim, windows, wheels and tires. There are several techniques and products available to do this from acids and degreasers to waxes and polishes.

Interior

Like the exterior, a car's interior can take a real beating over time, especially in households with kids or areas with harsh weather. Interior detail jobs include an extensive cleaning of the dash, panels, windows, upholstery and carpet. Depending upon the service you select, the seats may be removed from the car to ensure a good cleaning. Again, a variety of techniques and products may be used, including steam cleaning.

Engine

No auto detail would be complete without the pop of the hood and an engine cleaning. Steam and degreasers can do wonders to improve the look of an engine.

While body panels may be sanded to eliminate scratches, most detail work does not include major bodywork or repair. Depending upon where you go, various detail services may be available and prices may vary according to the size of vehicle you have. Detailers may offer everything from a complete detail package to an exterior wash and wax. No matter how much or how little you have done, your car will look better and you will feel better driving or selling it.

By Craig W. Armstrong

The weather is warmer and it's time to see how your vehicle survived the winter. Spring is a great time to make those repairs, check those fluid levels and see how the winter has treated your tires. Your tires are something you can check and maintain, even if you aren't mechanically inclined.

The first thing to do is check the pressure. You should do this every couple of weeks and before road trips. If you don't check your tire pressure on a regular basis, spring is a good time to start.

First, you need to determine the recommended PSI (pounds per square inch) for the tire. This can be found on the tire or in the owner's manual. To check the pressure, you will need a tire gauge. Most pressure gauges you can buy today are digital and easy to read. Unscrew the cap on the tire stem and put on the pressure gauge. If it reads "35 psi," that means the tire has 35 pounds of pressure per square inch.

If air is needed to reach the recommended PSI, add air to the tire until you reach that number...under inflated tires have greater friction with the road, which causes your vehicle to work harder. A vehicle that works harder uses more gas and costs more money.

Next, check your tires for wear; a worn tire is smooth. Hopefully, your tires are not completely bald. But, if they do still have some tread, is it enough? A way to check wear is to reach into your pocket, take out a penny and place it into the tire's groove, with Lincoln's head upside down and facing toward you. If you can see the top of "honest Abe's" head, it's time to go shopping for new tires.

The way you drive affects your tires. To ensure they last as long as possible, keep these things in mind. Driving at high speeds generates heat and will reduce the life of the tread.

It's also important to consider what you encounter on the road. Avoid going over potholes and hitting curbs when you turn. Also keep an eye out for road kill. They may already be flattened, but don't run over those unfortunate critters.

Another way to extend the life of your tires is to rotate them. By rotating your tires, you allow them to wear more evenly. A good rule of thumb is to have them rotated every 6,000 to 8,000 miles.

Spring means the flowers are blooming and the weather is warmer. Take the time to make sure your vehicle is operating at its peak. By taking care of your tires, you can make sure it runs its best from the ground up.
