Red, White, BOOM!

Weapon Recovered -- Charges Not Yet Filed

Investigators working diligently to solve the murders of Donna Denker and Kelli Denker announced July 3 that the weapon used in the two murders has been recovered.

The Denkers died of gunshot wounds inflicted in their home, 200 W. North St., Dwight, in the early morning of June 14.

Ballistic results have confirmed the weapon is the one used in the two homicides.

Information about the type of weapon, or owner of the weapon, had not been released as of late Monday afternoon, July 9, as investigators worked to piece together more details of the crime.

Police continue to stress that the shooting was an isolated incident. Anyone with information about who may be involved with the crime should call the Dwight Police Department at 815-584-3132.

Police are confident the case will soon be brought to a resolution.

Home-based Businesses to Be Featured at Dwight Farmers Market July 12

The July 12 Farmers Market will welcome home-based businesses. Anyone with a small business, including crafts, catalog sales or party plans are welcome to attend between 8:00-11:00 a.m. All vendors must take their own tables, chairs and displays.

The Farmers Markets are held every Saturday in the East Main Street parking lot and are sponsored by the Dwight Economic Alliance.

For additional information, vendors may call 815-584-2091.

Village of Dwight Aggregated Electric Rates Rise

by Tom Tock
The Village of Dwight has notified businesses and residents that a new bid of 7.85c per kilowatt hour for the supply of electricity from First Energy Corp. has been accepted by the village to replace a similar aggregation agreement with First Energy that expired June 30.

The important difference is that the former contract with First Energy was at a kilowatt hour rate of 4.69c, considerably lower than the new rate effective July 1.

Customers using 500 kilowatt hours of electricity a month will be paying an additional $15.80 for their supply of electricity on next month's bill because of the rate increase.

It should be understood that the above rates apply only to the electricity supply portion of the bill. ComEd will continue to deliver the electricity and be responsible for disruptions in service.

ComEd will also continue to send the monthly bills, which include a number of charges for ComEd's delivery and maintenance services in addition to First Energy's charge for the actual amount of electricity used, plus taxes and fees.

Nothing is required from Dwight citizens to remain in the First Energy program. Those who were not in the program will be automatically included unless they again opted out by June 19.

When Thunder Roars, Go Indoors

Summertime is meant for enjoying outdoor activities, but if you hear thunder, lightning is close enough to put you in danger. The National Weather Service and the Federal Emergency Management Agency want you to learn ways you can enjoy the warm temperatures and still protect yourself and your family when storm clouds roll in.

The safest place to be during a storm is inside a sturdy building. When indoors, stay off corded phones, computers and other electrical equipment that put you in direct contact with electricity. If you are caught outside with no substantial structures nearby, the following actions may reduce your risk of being struck by lightning:

- If possible, move inside a hard-topped metal vehicle with windows closed. Avoid contact with metal in the vehicle and try to keep away from windows.
- Never shelter under an isolated tree, tower or utility pole. Lightning tends to strike taller objects in an area.
- Immediately get off elevated areas such as hills, mountain ridges or peaks, and move to the lowest area you can get to quickly.
- Get out and away from ponds, lakes and other bodies of water and avoid metal objects (i.e. wires and fences.) Water and metal are excellent conductors of electricity.
- Never lie flat on the ground: to minimize your chance of being struck, you have to minimize your height and your body's contact with the earth's surface.

- Consider postponing or canceling outdoor activities when thunderstorms are forecast.

For additional information on lightning safety -- wherever you may be this summer -- visit www.ready.gov/thunderstorms-lightning. You can find more valuable storm safety tips by visiting www.lightningsafety.noaa.gov. ### Women Must Know What to Expect from Social Security

Everyone needs to be aware of the financial resources they will have available in retirement. But if you're a woman, you must be particularly diligent, for a variety of reasons. And that means you'll need to know just what to expect from Social Security.

Why should you, as a woman, pay extra attention to Social Security? For one thing, women often take time off from their careers to care for children and older parents, so they may accumulate less money in employer-sponsored retirement accounts, such as 401(k) plans. And women still live several years longer than men, according to the Census Bureau.

Clearly, then, you need to get the most you can from Social Security. To do so, you will need to consider at least three key factors:

Age — You can start taking retirement benefits as early as 62, but your benefits may be reduced by up to 30% unless you wait until your "full retirement age," which is likely 66 or 67. If you delay taking benefits until 70, your monthly benefits may be up to a third larger than if you started collecting Social Security at your full retirement age. You'll need to weigh a variety of factors — such as family longevity, income from employer-sponsored retirement plans and your anticipated financial needs — in determining when you should start taking Social Security.

Employment — If you work while receiving Social Security benefits before you reach full retirement age, your benefits will be reduced by $1 for every $2 you earn over an annual limit, which generally increases each year. In the year you reach full retirement age, your benefits will be reduced by $1 for every $3 you earn over the limit before your birthday. But once you reach full retirement age, your benefits will no longer be adjusted for earned income.

Marital status — As a spouse, you can generally receive Social Security payments based on your own earnings record or collect a spousal benefit of up to 50% of your husband's Social Security benefit. The benefit will be reduced if you start taking it before your full retirement age. To start collecting Social Security spousal benefits, you must be at least 62 years old and your husband must also have filed for his own benefits. If you're divorced, and you're not currently married, you can generally receive benefits on your ex-husband's Social Security record, as long as you meet certain conditions. (For example, you had to have been married to your ex-husband for at least 10 years.)

No matter how much Social Security you ultimately receive, it's almost certainly not going to be enough to provide all the income you'll need. So during your working years, try to contribute as much as you can, for as long as you can, to your IRA and your 401(k) or other employer-sponsored retirement plan. At the same time, look for other investment opportunities. And when you reach retirement, create a withdrawal strategy that allows you to stretch out the income you receive from your investments for as long as you can.

By saving and investing as much as possible during your working years, maximizing your Social Security payments and carefully managing your financial assets when you're retired, you can help improve your chances of enjoying the retirement lifestyle you deserve.

This information is believed to be reliable, but investors should rely on information from the Social Security Administration before making a decision on when to take Social Security benefits. It is general information and not meant to cover all scenarios. Your situation may be different, so be sure to discuss this with the Social Security Administration prior to taking benefits.

New Employee Training Funds Now Available

The Grundy Livingston Kankakee Workforce Board has announced newly available dollars to help select industries offset the cost of enhancing the skills of current employees. The Incumbent Worker Training (IWT) program assists employers in developing and implementing training initiatives designed to improve operations and processes, while retaining their existing workforce.

Eligible industries include manufacturing, transportation and logistics, health care, utilities, and business and personal services.

Workforce Board staff will meet with employers to review qualification and application requirements, and assist in designing a customized training plan.

For more information or to schedule an appointment, contact Ladonna Russell, Executive Director, Grundy Livingston Kankakee Workforce Board, at LRussell@glkwb.com or 815-935-0074.

Illinois Consumer Expert Warns Caller ID Spoofs on the Rise

If you have received this type of phone call, you probably are being spoofed: "Don't disregard this message, and do return the call before we take any legal allegation against you."

Illinoisans are reporting receiving calls that appear to be from a local business, utility company, or the Internal Revenue Service, but Steve Bernas, president and chief executive of the Better Business Bureau, said the callers actually are scammers in disguise. These callers have purchased lists of cell and home phone numbers, he said, and are using "robo-call" capabilities to randomly dial.

He added, "A caller ID can be spoofed, which means that they can be changed by a computer program."

News from the Dwight Fire Protection District

The Dwight Firefighters Association extends a thank you to all the supporters of recent fundraising efforts. As many of you know Smokey Bear was a fixture of the Fire Prevention and Public Education Division of the Dwight Fire Protection District for nearly 30 years. Many years of use have taken a toll on Smokey and he is in need of some repairs and some upgrades. There are only two locations in the United States that manufacture and repair these costumes. The needed repairs must be done in California, which is where Smokey was originally manufactured. Many people from the community have asked about Smokey Bear, and we determined it was time to get Smokey back in shape and out in the community again. With your help and support these repairs are going to be made and, provided the scheduling and shipping times all work in our favor, Smokey will be back in the public eye in time for the Harvest Days Parade. Without the help and support of the public, these appearances would not be possible.

In other news, the members of the Dwight Fire Protection District have participated in many recent tours and trainings at our major facilities. Tours of R.R. Donnelley and Aldi distribution warehouse were conducted in the recent months and the members now have a much better understanding of the operations at these facilities as well as how to handle emergencies there.

The training division is pleased to announce that the total combined hours of training is nearing the 1000 hour mark and is on the rise. So far this year, training classes have included basic firefighter skills, CPR and first aid, EMT training, hazardous materials response, and auto extrication. All of these hours of training add up to one goal: to provide the best possible service to the communities we serve.

Probationary Firefighter Rachel Groll recently completed EMT basic class and has obtained her license through the Illinois Department of Public Health. Miss Groll has also been accepted into the paramedic program and will begin classes in the fall.

Deputy Chief Justin Dyer has also recently completed EMT basic class and also has received his licensure through the IDPH to practice at the EMT Basic level.

Captain Andrew Kelson completed Hazardous Materials Technician B level training and has received certification from the Office of the State Fire Marshal as well as the National Fire Academy to practice at this level.

Nearly every member of the roster has completed both Technical Rescue Awareness training and Hazardous Materials Awareness training in the recent months.

Many classes are scheduled through the remainder of the year and will provide valuable training and knowledge to our members. The fire department will be conducting a six month Basic Operations Firefighter academy beginning in September which will provide over 200 hours of firefighter training required to each participant. Upon completion of the academy, each member will be certified as a Basic Firefighter, Hazardous Materials Operations, Technical Rescue Awareness, Fire Service Vehicle Operator, CPR, and will also complete several National Incident Management courses.

We have added five new members to the roster in the last two months, but even so, we are always looking to add to our ranks. If you are interested in serving with the fine men and women of the Dwight Fire Protection District, please visit our website at www.dwight-fire.org or stop by the fire house to obtain an application.

Members recently participated in many events locally and in neighboring communities. An automobile extrication demonstration was conducted at the recent Buzz the Gut car show in Downtown Dwight. Members demonstrated the use of the extrication tools and the work required to cut into a vehicle in an emergency situation. Members of Dwight EMS services also assisted with this demonstration and continue to help with many other demonstrations throughout the year.

Dwight Fire and Dwight EMS personnel are currently evaluating the possibility of presenting a citizens fire academy later in the year. This will help answer questions and concerns with safety and offer fine prevention tips for the home to all ages. If you would be interested in attending these presentations, feel free to send an email to Captain Andy Kelson at akelson@dwightfire.org or Lieutenant Dustin Campbell at dcampbell@dwightfire.org. Please be safe this summer season!

The new Village contract with First Energy will continue until July 2017.

Those who later decide to opt out of the First Energy program will not be charged a termination fee.

A list of other companies that supply electricity is available at PluginIllinois.org or from the Citizens Utility Board website.

Residents should carefully consider all the details of any competitive offers they receive.

ComEd quoted the writer of this article an existing 6.591c rate for electrical supply until September 2014. Their rate changes every six months, but ComEd has no switchover or termination fees. ComEd disallows a return to a previous supplier.

42nd Annual Beiswanger-Miller Reunion Held in Odell

The 42nd annual Beiswanger-Miller Reunion was held on June 29 at the park in Odell. Family members are descendants of George and Lillie (Miller) Beiswanger and Bill and Luella Miller. Guests traveled from Tennessee, the Rockford area, Dwight and the Peoria/Washington area. Members deceased during the past year were Paul Schou, Karen Bruback Dolan and Barbara Bruback Anderson.

The host and hostess were Joe Dolan and Kim Gaffney, 52 relatives gathered. After a good meal, Bingo was played, T-shirts were tie-dyed and other games were enjoyed. Marjorie Lauritsen was the oldest family member and Brooklin Trainor was the youngest family member.

There was a pie baking contest. First prize in presentation was given to Brian Trainor who had a pie which was half cherry and half blueberry. The top crust was designed like an American flag. The second prize in presentation was Barb Anderson. First prize in flavor was Marcia Drach with a blueberry-rhubarb pie and second place was Barb Anderson with a strawberry-rhubarb pie.

Next year's host and hostess will be Brian Trainor and Devon Crouch. The reunion will be June 28 at Renfrew Park in Dwight.

Chatsworth Corner

by Mare Reardanz

The Citizens Advisory Board held their regular meeting on the first Wednesday of the month at 7 pm led by Richard Runyon.

The CAB welcomes all residents looking to improve the quality of life for the citizens of Chatsworth. The CAB looks to promote growth and development in the community while preserving the small town charm.

This board is sanctioned by the Board of Trustees of the town of Chatsworth and was created to give the citizens a better avenue to communicate their ideas to the town government and organizations. The CAB board operates solely on donations and grants. The generosity of citizens along with volunteers is truly appreciated.

Some of the events being developed are a 5K Run, Hot Dogs and Hot Rods, the summer food program along with the Boys and Girls Club, a Haunted Halloween Party, and Santa coming to town. The ideas expressed are exciting and very innovative for Chatsworth.

Movie Night will kick off this Friday, July 11th at 8:30 pm in the big park. The movie will be the new release called The Great Bear and is family oriented. All children must be accompanied by an adult.

Bring your lawn chairs and blankets for an evening of outdoor entertainment provided by the Chatsworth Fire Department and the CAB at no cost.

There will be popcorn, candy and pop for a minimal charge to help fund the renovation of the basketball court at the park.

The Farmers Market held every Saturday through October is growing and encouraging vendors to come and share their goods and knowledge. "We would like to see crafters and hobbyists showcase their products for a week or the entire summer, along with the produce, plants, and baked goods," said John Reardanz.

"Every week there is something new from one of us. Julie's Sweet Tooth has homemade chocolates and Barb's Bake Shoppe has baked goods, so the vendors never go hungry!". There is so much unseen talent in Chatsworth that we hope to showcase."

Speaking of Junk in the Trunk, for the residents not familiar with this concept...

Kankakee Quilt Makers

Kankakee Quilt Makers Guild meeting will be held Thursday, July 10 at 7 p.m. in the Calvary Bible Church located at 2587 E. Armour Rd. in Bourbonnais.

The program will feature Merrie Woodward from Yorkville. She will inspire us with an "Introduction to Art Quilts" and bring Challenge Quilts and Slice Quilts made by members of her guild. Perhaps it will inspire our members for our own challenge quilts for next year's AQS show in Grand Rapids!

Then Merrie will come back on Saturday, July 12 (at the Bourbonnais Public Library) for what she is calling an "Art Supply Play Day". She will bring supplies for us to use--such as Tsukeneko Inks, Pebeo Setacolor Paints, Shiva Paint-Stiks and Ink-Tense Pencils. To participate, a sign-up will be at the Thursday night meeting.

St. Mary's Hospital Closes Maternity Unit

On June 10, St. Mary's Hospital, Streator, announced its intent to close its Maternity Unit, and as of July 3, they were no longer accepting patients.

"The decision to no longer offer Maternity services is based primarily on limited access to physicians who deliver babies in the region," said John Flanders, President and CEO of St. Mary's Hospital. "We believe it is in the best interest of our patients to have their babies delivered at nearby hospitals where there is physician coverage," Flanders continued. "St. Mary's Hospital is coordinating with EMS providers and area hospitals, including OSF facilities in Ottawa and Pontiac, to ensure expectant mothers in Streator have seamless access to care."

Patients who have questions about their maternity care with St. Mary's Hospital should contact John Flanders at 815-673-4500.

Japanese Beetles: Lower Numbers This Summer!

Yes — this news is a gardener's dream-come-true — at least for the 2014 growing season! All the winter data is in and the experts now say Japanese beetle numbers in northern Illinois will be much lower this year.

Many Japanese beetle larvae did not survive the winter, particularly in the northern half of the state. "Earlier predictions stated that number should be at normal levels due to the insulating effect of the deep snow cover," explains Martha Smith, Horticulture educator, University of Illinois Extension. "But the latest data shows the cold temperatures challenge this early prediction."

This past winter the cold temperatures penetrated deeper in the soil than what was first thought. Japanese beetle grubs do not migrate deeper than 11 inches into the soil for the winter. They die if the soil temperature reaches 15 degrees Fahrenheit or if they are subjected to freezing temperatures for two months. Last winter the soil was frozen to 15 inches deep in central Illinois and 30 inches deep in northern Illinois for several weeks. Based on previous experience, it is likely that about two-thirds of the larvae died during the winter in the northern half of the state. That is good news for crops and landscapes. A double hit for Japanese beetle numbers has to do with summer 2013 rainfall amounts. In addition to cold temperature mortality, Japanese beetle larvae require approximately 11 inches of water from egg hatch in late July into the fall. Although we received abundant rain in spring of 2013, much less rain fell from July through October, averaging 9.5 inches during this critical time in their life-cycle. On turf areas that were not irrigated and allowed to go dormant, Japanese beetle larvae had a very low survivability rate compared to irrigated turf. Japanese beetle larvae had a greater chance of late summer survivability on irrigated lawns, athletic fields and golf courses. Because late summer 2013 was dry the numbers of larvae were reduced, only to be hit with very cold winter temperatures for extended periods of time. This sounds like the perfect storm for 2014 Japanese beetle populations.

Other pests such as the northern and southern masked chafer grubs require less water and tunnel deeper than Japanese beetle grubs. In areas of central Illinois and other areas where these grubs are numerous, neither drought nor cold is likely to have reduced their numbers. Where Japanese beetle adults are few, masked chafers are likely to invade those turf areas. These adult beetles do not inflict the feeding damage on landscape plants like Japanese beetles, but the grub stage can cause considerable turf damage.

Cassidy Taylor led the Destroyers, going 2-3 with a double. Also adding hits were Josie Snyder, Lucy Rieke, Karah Colebank and Riley Connolly.

GSW Bronco Baseball

The GSW Broncos finished the regular season with a 14-1 record, earning them first place in the 2014 Tri-County League.

They were in round one action of the League Tournament on June 24, defeating Morris 7-1 in Gardner.

Connor Steichen took the mound for the first game, going four innings and giving up just one run. Kade Kociss came on in relief in the fifth, holding Morris at bay.

Morris was on top, 1-0, going into the bottom of the third, when Nate Wise doubled, scoring Gabe Alvarez and putting GSW on the board. In the fifth, Niko Alvarez drew a walk and ended up scoring. Other highlights were a triple by Michael Ashley and a nice hit by Danny Passini.

On June 26, GSW knocked off Elwood, 11-1, in the second round of the playoffs. This was the fourth meeting between the two teams, with Gardner taking the first three games.

Coach Kociss said, "Elwood is always a tough team to play. They kept getting tougher every time we played them this year. I was glad that we were playing them at home, and not in Elwood."

Ty Halpin started for GSW, giving up one run in three innings.

"Ty did a solid job for us tonight, and kept his walks down - that was huge," Kociss added.

Kade Kociss came on in relief in the fourth and would close out the game.

Hits for Gardner were recorded by Nolan Perkins, Michael Ashley, Ty Halpin and Cayden Landry.

The Championship game was held in Elwood on June 28, and saw GSW taking on Dwight's "The Paper" team for first place - which GSW ran away with, 12-2.

According to Coach Kociss, "I was watching the brackets unfold all week, and kept seeing Dwight winning. They did not get a bye in game one, so they had to play three games to get to the Championship. Not only did they do this, but they beat three top-seeded teams to do this. My hat's off to Gary Beier, his coaching staff, and his team. They

Nolan Perkins had a great day at the plate for GSW, with two doubles and a nice bunt late in the game. Michael Ashley also came through with two doubles.

Kade Kociss pitched into the fourth inning, before being relieved by Chris Ruiz, who would close out the game.

"I would like to call out my coaches this year who have been by my side all year long and have put in countless hours with the team," Kociss added. Coaches include Dan Steichen, Tim Perkins, Scott Wise, Al Jackman and Bob Carpenter.

GSW ends the season with a 17-1 record.

Brick Basics

By Tresa Erickson

Brick can be a great feature in any home, but like most things, it can wear down over time. You can clean brick, you can repoint brick, and you can even replace brick. Replacement, however, can be difficult and costly. If you have brick that has seen better days and replacement is not an option, you might want to consider painting it.

Painting brick is not hard, but it does take some work, and once done, it can be hard to undo. Removing paint from brick is a painstaking process, so you need to make certain you are ready to proceed. If so, here are some pointers.

Brick in general is porous. For the best results, you will probably need a conditioner paint and a brick paint. You will also need the right rollers and brushes for easier coverage. Consult the professionals at your local hardware store for recommendations.

Prep the surface. To ensure the paint sticks, you will need to prepare the brick properly. Start with a good wire brushing, particularly if the brick has a lot of chalkiness. This will also remove any loose material from the brick. Inspect the brick. See any cracks or missing mortar? You should seal the cracks with caulk and repoint the mortar. Finally, give the brick a good cleaning with soap and water. For exterior brick, you may want to use a power washer. If you have mold, mildew or moss, make sure you use a bleach solution.

Put in the time. Because brick is so porous, it takes longer to paint. In addition to the conditioner paint, you will probably have to apply two to three coats of the brick paint. When you are done, make sure you give the brick ample time to dry. Just because it feels dry to the touch after a few hours doesn't mean it is totally dry. Brick is so porous that it usually takes a few days for it to dry completely.

Painting brick takes time, time to research, time to prepare and time to complete. Make sure you allow ample time in your schedule to get the job done right.

Old Door, New Use

By Tresa Erickson

Old doors. They seem to be everywhere—antique stores, flea markets, yard sales, in the old home you just inherited. The older the door, the more likely it is constructed from solid wood. Solid wood doors are hard to find these days and cost a bundle. Beyond using them as an entrance, what do you do with old doors? You repurpose them into almost anything imaginable!

Old doors make great headboards. Just remove the hardware, paint or stain the exterior if desired, turn the door on its side, hang it behind your bed, and voila, you've got a great headboard. Door doesn't quite fit? No problem. Cut it down and trim it out for a more finished look.

Old doors make great screens. Find three somewhat equal in size, remove the hardware, paint or refinish them if desired, attach them together with hinges, and your folding screen is complete. Need a larger screen? Add another door or two. Want to make the screen more practical? Add a panel of chalkboard paint and a panel of corkboard for a bulletin board. You can also create a message center out of one door. Just paint a panel with chalkboard paint, attach a whiteboard in another panel and a corkboard in another, and you've got a large, message center at your service. You can either hang the door on the wall, stand it against the wall or attach some feet to it for a freestanding message center.

Old doors make great desks. Take a door, remove the hardware, paint or refinish it if desired, add four legs, trim it out and you've got a great desk. Use the doorknob hole for a cup or cord holder. Door has panes of glass? No problem. Slide some photos or postcards onto the glass panes for decoration and lay a large piece of glass on top of the door to create a solid surface for working. You can also turn an old door into an instant table using the same process. Just cut the door down to the size you need, paint or refinish it if desired, add some legs and trim, and you've got a great side table, sofa table and more. Want a dining table? Use two doors side by side.

Old doors make great additions to gardens as well, either as screens, shutters or potting benches. To turn an old door into a potting bench, turn it on its side and add some legs, or make it freestanding with feet and use it as a backdrop to a real potting bench.

There are dozens of new uses for old doors. Head to your local hardware store or garden center for ideas. Consult some home magazines and the Internet for further ideas. Get creative and design your own project. Then post it online and share it with others!

Let us help you update any and every room in your home!

Bring The Outdoors In

By Tresa Erickson

With temperatures heating up, you are spending more and more time outdoors. You're working on your flowerbeds, sprucing up your garden shed and more. Oh, how you love the warm weather. It makes you want to throw open your doors and windows and bring the outdoors in. Lucky for you, you can. Here are some tips.

Bring in the natural light

Replace those heavy window coverings with lighter ones wherever possible. Use sheers instead of drapes. Pull up those blinds. Clean your doors and windows, open them on good days and remove anything obstructing the view outdoors.

Opt for lighter, earthier colors

Planning to do a little repainting this spring? Choose lighter, earthier shades, like greens, blues, browns and yellows. Any color that reminds you of nature will help bring the outdoors in. If you don't plan to repaint, you can still bring in natural colors by changing out accessories like pillows and throws.

Add natural materials

Bamboo, hemp, jute, rattan, seagrass and wicker are just some of Mother Nature's offerings you can bring into your décor. Replace your plastic mini-blinds with rattan blinds, purchase some wicker baskets for your magazines and throw down a couple of seagrass rugs.

Incorporate natural accessories

Mother Nature provides some of the best accessories around, from pinecones and seashells to pebbles and stones to fruit and vegetables. Incorporate these into your décor wherever possible. Trade in that artificial floral centerpiece on your mantel for a bowl of seashells. Add a tray of lemons and limes to your dining room table. Stack some rocks on your hearth.

Entice the senses

Invoke the feel of Mother Nature everywhere you can in your home. Freshen the air with some woody incense, fragrant potpourri or fresh-cut flowers. Bring the sound of water to your space with a fountain or two. Hang some nature photos or murals. Although not real, a wall-size mural of a bamboo garden or a wooded forest can make you feel like you are right there in the outdoors.

Go green

Anytime you make a new purchase, look for the most eco-friendly option available. When shopping for flooring, consider bamboo, cork and wood over man-made materials. When shopping for paint, look for brands low in VOCs, fungicides and biocides. Natural paint and milk paint are ideal. When shopping for linens, look for earth-friendly ones.

Of course, one of the best and easiest ways to bring the outdoors in is through houseplants. Accept all seedlings and shoots, visit your local nursery for other options and place all of your houseplants where they can be seen. It doesn't take much to bring the outdoors into your space. Start sprucing it up now, and when the sun goes down and you're forced to come inside, you might not mind it so much.

This Way, Please

By Tresa Erickson

Many landscapes feature paths of some sort that guide visitors from one point to another safely and easily. The best paths not only direct but connect visitors with the garden, leading them from one interesting point to another. If you would like to connect visitors to your landscape through some paths, here are some tips.

Plot your path

Determine beforehand the intent of the path—to direct visitors to and from the house, to allow visitors easy access to the garden, to highlight a particular feature, etc. Primary paths need to be wide and fairly straight to permit more than one visitor on them at a time. Secondary paths may be narrower and involve more twists and turns.

Pick your materials

Again, the purpose of the path plays a large part in the materials used. Primary paths should be made from materials that can be set firmly in place and provide an even surface, such as stone or brick. Secondary paths can call for softer surfaces like turf or mulches. You can mix materials for interest if you wish. Just make sure whatever you choose complements your landscape. Classic red brick might look out of place in a rustic garden, whereas stone and mulch might not.

Prep and place the materials

You can't just throw down some stepping stones and be done with it. The surface needs to be even, safe and easy to walk on, so prep the site accordingly. Improve the drainage, level the course with sand and then lay the material. Research the materials you plan to use and know how to install them properly. Take additional measures for stability, like creating edges to keep pavers, stones and brick in place. Consider installing lighting, particularly if the path will be used at night.

Perk up the path

When you have finished setting down the path, try it out. See for yourself how easy it is to traverse. Make whatever adjustments are needed for safety and then look at the path from a designer viewpoint. Is it eye catching? Does it capture and maintain your interest? Perhaps you could add to the ambiance with more lighting, plants and statuary.

Garden paths can be great assets to your landscape. Think about yours carefully and make sure they fulfill their purpose and more.

ON JULY 6, A NUMBER OF DWIGHT RESIDENTS lined Dwight's Main Street to say goodbye to Brandon Van-Amburgh as he left for Marine Boot Camp. They also welcomed home Madison Pfister as she returned from her service in the Marines. Thanks to all who came out to support Brandon and Madison, a couple of home-town heroes.

ON MONDAY, JUNE 30, the wind picked up a bit, throwing objects around and knocking down trees.
