On Monday, October 6, the Dwight Village will hold an informational meeting to review the Mazon Avenue/Franklin St. and Chippewa St./Prairie Avenue railroad crossing project.

The meeting is planned to cover the upgrades, proposed detours, time frame, and future plans of the Downtown Business District associated with the project.

Dwight Extends Trick-or-Treat Hours Free Leaf Pickup Dates Set

by Madelyn Fogarty madelynfogarty@yahoo.com

Trick-or-Treat hours will be extended in the Village of Dwight again this year after the board considered the fact that Halloween is on a Friday. Last year, the board extended Trick-or-Treat hours after receiving comments that the earlier cutoff time did not allow enough time for some working parents to accompany their children.

Concerns regarding the risks involved with trick-ortreating after dark were again considered with Trustee Justin Eggenberger suggesting the board may want to consider moving future trick-or-treating to a standard Saturday event in an effort to allow for an earlier daylight start time. No action on the suggestion was taken. The board approved a one-half-hour extension for this year with Trick-or-Treat hours approved for Friday, October 31 from 4 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. Everyone is reminded to use reduced speeds and extra caution Livingston County. Dontz when driving during these designated hours and to watch for children crossing streets.

Three free leaf pickup days have been scheduled for Dwight. Free leaf pickups will be on the first three Mondays in November -November 3, 10, and 17. Leaves must be in biodegradable kraft style paper bags, cardboard boxes, or rigid trash containers – no plastic bags are allowed. Leaves should be placed out for pickup by 6:00 a.m. Dwight residents are reminded that burning leaves is prohibited at all times within the Village.

In other business at the September 22 meeting of Dwight's Board of Trustees, Mayor Jared Anderson read a report from the September 15 Administration Committee meeting where Adam Director of the Dontz GLCEDC, was on hand to propose a ten-year property tax abatement program to try and attract new businesses to has already presented the plan to the Livingston County Board and plans to visit the Livingston County municipalities and school boards as well. Dontz said the 100 percent ten-year abatement would only be for new income streams and be limited to businesses that meet the ten-year criteria that he proposes.

Mayor Anderson indicated he felt the ten-year abatement period was too long. Dwight currently has a three-year abatement program in place. Anderson said he could support coming up with an aggressive five-year plan.

Administration An Committee meeting has been set for October 2 at 6:30 p.m. to discuss abatements.

In his report to the board, Mayor Anderson complimented efforts resulting in another nice Harvest Days celebration. Anderson committee, said of the festished some light on a behind the scenes problem that kept (continued on page 3)

Volunteers & Mother Nature Shine Bright Harvest Days 2014

Harvest Days 2014 was certainly a celebration this year, with new featured activities and old favorites entertaining festival goers.

"I was very pleased with how the entire weekend came together," Jerry Beier, head of the Harvest Days

"We had a really nice crowd for that event," Beier said. "Everyone that took the time to come out, whether they participated or just watched, had a blast; it will definitely continue next year."

Beier also said that the places around the area were drenched; but not Dwight."

Beier mentioned that the downtown entertainment wristbands were also a success, and helped fully fund the downtown entertainment. He hopes for next year

Habitat for Humanity Rebuilds Lives

Since the first part of March this year, Randall Farris, a member of the Dwight United Methodist Church, has been working in conjunction with Habitat for Humanity, building a new home from the ground up for Jane Hotelling and her son, Thomas Luzadder.

Located at 114 West Chippewa St., Dwight, the home is one of 15 houses built by the organization in Livingston County, and one of two built in Dwight. This one, though, is one of the first in this area that has been built from the ground up, rather than being a rehab project.

Habitat for Humanity is a faith-based organization that partners with families in need to help provide them with decent, affordable housing that they might not be able to achieve on their own. Randall first got involved through a Board Member, Herb Voigts, at the Methodist Church. "It was just something that made sense to me," Farris said. "I signed up, and now I've been involved with the organization for the past seven years."

The project for Hotelling that the group is currently working on is a little under half way completed. "The roof is up, and the siding is about to be finished," Farris commented. "The electric is also done, and the heating as well as the plumbing have been started," Farris continued. "Our goal is to have the family in by Christmas, so that they can enjoy their house over the holiday."

All of the labor is volunteered from people within the community, with local churches and organizations working together as well. So far, on this project, the firemen have helped put the (continued on page 3)

MAKING SENSE OF INVESTING

When Is It Time to Make Portfolio Changes?

The kids are back at school and summer vacations are now just fading memories, so it must be autumn. But the seasons don't just move on the calendar - they also change in your life. And, speaking of changes, you'll have to make many of them as you move through the years - and that includes changes to your investment portfolio. But how will you know when it's time to take action?

Just as Mother Nature sends out "signals" to indicate a change in seasons - blooming flowers, falling leaves, warmer or colder temperatures, longer or shorter days, etc. - your portfolio will frequently "tell" you when you need to make adjustments. Here are a couple of indicators you may want to heed:

Out-of-balance portfolio - Even the best stocks can lose value when the overall market is down, but if you only own stocks, you could take a big hit during a downturn - and if it happens repeatedly, you may find it hard to even stay invested. After all, stocks will always fluctuate in value, and protection of your principal is not guaranteed. Yet you can at least help defend yourself against market volatility by balancing your portfolio with a mix of stocks, bonds, government securities, certificates of deposit (CDs) and other investments, with the percentage of each type of asset based on your individual goals, time horizon and risk tolerance.

"Overweighting" of individual investments - Related to the point made above, you can also have too much money kept in a single investment, such as an individual stock or bond. Sometimes, this "overweighting" can happen almost on its own, as when a stock, or stock-based vehicle, has increased so much in value that it now takes on a larger percentage of your portfolio than you had intended possibly bringing with it more risk than you had intended, too. As a general rule, no single investment should take up more than a small percentage of your entire portfolio.

Your own life may also send you some messages regarding changes you may need to make to your investment and financial strategies. Here are just a few of the milestones that may trigger necessary moves

New child — You'll need to review your life insurance to make sure it's sufficient to help provide for a newborn or newly adopted child, should anything happen to you. You may also want to begin investing in a college savings vehicle, such as a 529 plan.

New job — Assuming your new job offers you a retirement plan, such as a 401(k) or similar vehicle, you'll have some choices to make. How much can you afford to contribute? How should you allocate your dollars among the investment choices offered in the plan? How can you best integrate your 401(k) or other plan into your overall investment portfolio to avoid duplication?

Impending retirement - As you enter retirement, you may want to adjust your portfolio to help reduce its short-term fluctuations and to provide more current income opportunities. At the same time, you may still need to invest for growth - you could be retired for two or three decades, and you'll need to stay ahead of inflation.

Pay close attention to the messages coming from your portfolio and from your life. These "signals" will give you a good idea of when it's time to make the right investment-related moves.

(continued from page 1) crews working during the festival in an effort to keep the downtown businesses open. A clogged main behind Main Street continues to be investigated to determine what caused the main to fill with gravel.

During public forum, a question was again raised regarding why Village crews are not spraying for mosquitoes within Village limits. Mayor Anderson indicated that the Village is taking steps to combat the insects by treating storm sewer catch basins instead of spraying insecticides. This new eco-friendly approach uses tablets to kill mosquito eggs in the standing water and remains effective for up to 30 days. This method has been proven more effective than the spray which has brought complaints over the vears.

Moving to other matters, the board approved advertising for a Public Works Director to replace Dave Bozarth who retires this fall. Bozarth has been a Village employee for 40 years. Applications for qualified candidates should be submitted to the Village Administrator at the Public Services Complex by October 15.

A Sound Amplification permit request was approved. The request from Sarah Sarff (Cure Crew) was for a Softball Tournament Fundraiser on September 27 and 28 at Renfrew Park.

The next meeting of the Dwight Village Board of Trustees will be Monday, October 13, at 6:30 p.m. at Public the Services Complex. Meetings are open to the public.

(continued from page 1) roof and siding on, and the women's group has promised to paint the interior of the house.

"Whenever we have needed help, we have always had people to help," Farris said. "The plumbers, electricians... even they, by feeling blessed themselves and wanting to pass their blessings on to others, have provided their work at a discount or completely free.'

The part Randall has enjoyed most has been helping families in need. "I love seeing the smiles on the people's faces when they have their own home," he said.

Jane Hotelling, the home's recipient, has been involved in the build throughout the entire process. From helping build, to cleaning, she has loved assisting the organization with the home.

"Just this week, we started the furnace room, which I helped with," she said. "My son also helped build the home's frame." She described the whole process as a learning experience that everyone should be a part of, and has loved being a part of all the decisions that come along with building a house. "You're building your home with your own two hands," she said. "It's an amazing thing to feel." Upon finding out that she was selected for the home, Hotelling could not contain her excitement. She was happy, but overwhelmed; "I still feel like it's a dream," she commented. "I never thought an opportunity like this would come around.'

Hotelling, who has lived in Dwight for the last three years and works for Mosaic, had previously lived in an apartment. She currently works full-time, while also attending school at JJC in pursuit of her Associate's degree as Legal Administration Assistant. She picked the field because she wants to help those who may be going through rough times and/or emotional stress, and with knowledge of the law/her current position, she can do just that.

She also does everything for her son, applying for the house because she wanted to make his future better. "Though there has been a lot of sleepless nights, it's all been worth it," she said.

Dwight Historical Society Planning Its First Ghost Walk on November 1

The Dwight Historical Society is planning its first ghost walk through downtown Dwight to be held Saturday, November 1.

"The Spirits of Dwight -A Walking Tour" will begin on the patio of the Country Mansion, where participants will gather to hear stories of happenings that have occurred in some of Dwight's most famous and prominent buildings. From there, the group will wend its way to the center of town, ending at the park on East Main Street.

Tours will leave from the Mansion at 6:00, 7:00, and 8:00 p.m., and be limited in size. The approximate one hour tour will include some stops with available seating along the way. EXPLANATION

The Constitution sets forth substantial rights for crime victims. The proposed amendment expands certain current rights:

- Victims are currently entitled to fairness and respect throughout the criminal justice process. The amendment would also provide that they shall be protected from harassment, intimidation and abuse.
 Victims currently can make a statement to the court when a criminal defendant is sentenced to punishment. The amendment would allow a victim to be heard at any proceeding that involves the victim's rights, and any proceeding involving a plea agreement, release of the defendant or convicted individual, or sentencing.
- 3) Victims may obtain information about conviction, sentencing, imprisonment or release. The amendment would require prosecutors and the court to notify victims of those events before they happen.

The amendment would also grant additional rights to crime victims:

- 1) A victim would have a right to formal notice and a hearing before the court rules on any request for access to the victim's information which is privileged or confidential information.
- 2) A victim would have the right to have the judge consider the victim's safety and the safety of his or her family before deciding whether to release a criminal defendant, setting the amount of bail to be paid before release, or setting conditions of release after arrest or conviction.
- 3) The victim would have the right to assert his or her rights in any court with jurisdiction over the criminal case, but would not have the same rights as the prosecutor or the criminal defendant and the court could not appoint an attorney for the victim at taxpayer expense.

The proposed amendment would not alter the powers, duties or responsibilities of the prosecutor. Further, a criminal defendant would not be able to challenge his or her conviction on the basis of a failure to follow these provisions.

HOLD ON TO THAT LIGHT

'God gave all of us a light from childhood. A divine flicker of creativity and closeness to him. As you get older the world puts thoughts in your head and tries harder and harder to extinguish that light. HOLD ONTO THAT LIGHT. That light is faith. That light is the goodness of God. Hold onto that light."-Jon Bellion

I could probably quit writing right there, and say nothing else, that pretty much sums up what I'm going to touch on.

Recently an artist I listen to, Jon Bellion, released a new album, called "The Definition". I liked what I was hearing after a few listens, and then a few more, and before I knew it I had listened to the album a healthy (or unhealthy depending on how you look at it) number of times.

I think this album is important because of the meaning behind it, the quote at the beginning of this kind of sums up the album as a whole, and it definitely showed. I think as we get older it's harder to remain youthful, and as he says "keep that light shining". To remain inspired over a long period of time is one of the toughest things to do.

Another thing he said that influenced the album was Pixar movies. This is also very evident throughout the album, it's all very simple, yet also very deep at the same time... much like a Pixar movie.

There are things an adult can pull from a Pixar movie that a kid might not grasp at all, but then there are things that a kid could pull from it that an adult might not even notice. This album is those two things meeting together.

That grey area between being a very simple person (much like a kid), and being able to fully grasp things, and being an intellectual (an adult) is something I think everyone aims for, you get the best of both worlds that way. It's tough not to sway too far one way or the other.

It's also an album that naturally creates inspiration because you can really hear what he was feeling when he wrote and created the songs. The project also comes full circle with the first song being called "Munny Right" and being about his aspirations growing up to create music when no one else understood.

The last song "Luxury" is about how he has started to make money but doesn't want to let the money consume him and dictate who he is as a person. With everything in between on the album being about the trials and tribulations of life and the relationships we have in life.

You can find it on Spotify or JonBellion.com, I'd give it a PG-13 rating, just a disclaimer.

on 11 attempts with one score against Clifton Central.

Friday, September 26 Dwight vs. Clifton Central Varsity -

The Trojans dropped to 1-4 on the season as they fell to Clifton Central, 35-13.

Dwight's offense struggled early on the contest, resulting in a Jack Davidson fumble in the first quarter that ended up a Central safety.

Towards the end of the first half, Clifton would strike again on a five-yard run, giving them an eight point lead going into the half.

Just under two minutes into the third quarter, Central ran for a 36-yard score, putting them up 14-0.

Dwight would finally get on the board less than 20 seconds later, with Brandon Allen taking it to the house on a 52-yard run. Trimi Asllani would put the extra point through the uprights and the Trojans were right back in it.

So it seemed. Central's Toberman would add another rushing TD midway through the quarter, followed by a 71yard punt return for a touchdown.

The Comets would enter the fourth with a healthy 28-7 lead over Dwight.

Toberman would add a receiving touchdown to pad his stats just nine seconds into the quarter. Giving Central a 35-7 lead.

The Trojans would muster up enough for one more score late in the game, on a two-yard run by Tony Bernardy. But the damage had already been done, and the Comets took it, 35-7.

Dwight's three turnovers played a vital part to another loss, as Allen threw a pick and the team coughed up two fumbles.

Notice of Availability of the 2014 Annual Financial Report

All persons are hereby notified that the Village of Braceville 2014 Annual Financial Report for the fiscal year ended April 30, 2014, has been filed with Judy Baar Topinka, Comptroller, State of Illinois. The survey and the supporting documentation from which the report was prepared are on file at the office of the Mayor, Mitchell Street, Braceville, Illinois, and may be examined by the general public upon request.

GSW PRINCIPAL JOHN ENGELMAN and School Secretary Carla Huston welcome visitors to the new entranceway at the school.

GSW's New Main Office Entrance Complete

As part of the plan for continuous facility improvements at Gardner-South Wilmington High School, a new Main Office entrance has been completed. The new entrance provides additional control and security for GSW. Visitors can now enter the building, but are limited to the vestibule of the school.

"Most times, visitors just need to drop off an item for a student. They don't need to come into the main office. Visitors can pass items to me through the sliding window or wait in the entranceway for a student," said Carla Huston, Main Office Secretary.

All visitors will be directed to the new main door in the front of the building. Visitor access through "door 14" on the south side of the building during the regular school day will no longer be allowed. There is parking in front of the school for visitors.

Principal John Engelman stated, "We are being mindful about who has access to the interior of our school. Before we had the new front entrance it was more difficult to monitor who was coming into the building."

Matching funds for the construction of the front entranceway were provided by an Illinois State Board of Education grant.

Church of Hope "Trunk or Treat"

On Friday, October 31, the Church of Hope, Gardner, will be having a "Trunk or Treat." All children are invited to stop by the church parking lot from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. for some Halloween Treats.

The Church of Hope is located at 202 N. Monroe in Gardner.

Mayor Richard Runyon called the Town of Chatsworth's Board Meeting to order at 7 pm September 25. Most board members were present.

The minutes from the last meeting were approved. There was no Sheriff's report this meeting.

Public Issues included an announcement that NiCor will be adding a $.75 increase to each consumer's bill for the NiCor Gas System Improvement Initiative. The increase will begin later this year. NiCor states that the infrastructure needs updating to continue uninterrupted service for their customers.

New Business included a town donation of $300 to the Citizens Advisory Board for use at the annual Halloween party. There will be two parties this year. The earlier party will be for younger children, to be followed by a dance for the junior high kids. Halloween trick or treat hours and further information will be discussed at the next meeting.

Trustee Will Price presented map of Chatsworth streets indicating where a total of nine stop signs are projected to be replaced by yield signs. His committee recommended that the Board members drive the route to review the intersections and the selection of signs designated for change. These intersections were chosen with public safety in mind and considered to be of little consequence for traffic control.

Streets and Alleys Superintendent Chad Ledford stated that work will begin Monday to repair/replace a drainage tile for a two block stretch from 6th and Oak to 4th and Oak. He asked the Board to look at an old tree near 4th and Oak that has caused some problems both to the home owner and the tile. Removal of this tree should be considered before work begins.

Carolyn Barrett requested Mayor Runyon to ask the CAB to consider working with her in a Neighborhood Watch program for the town.

Bills were paid and the meeting was adjourned at 7:44 p.m.

Pritzker Military Curator Speaks to Rotarians

Thomas Webb, Curator of Oral History at the Pritzker Military Museum and Library in Chicago, explained to the Dwight Rotarians why the Pritzker and other facilities and organizations are recording the history of military veterans. The recordings are used by authors and historians to build a picture of an event and the lives of the participants. They record not just American stories, but also those from other countries.

The instructor, Mr. Eric Long, and seven students from Dwight High School's Video Technology class were given tips on how to do interviews. Mr. Webb wanted to impress on everyone the fact that every story is important and needs to be told.

For more information about the Dwight Rotary Club, and to see upcoming guest speakers programs. and visit www.dwightrotary.org/. The Dwight Rotary meets each Wednesday at noon at the Country Mansion. Rotary meetings are always open to the public for the cost of the meal. Contact the Mansion if they plan to attend the luncheon meeting.

Dwight Crafts Guild

Dwight Crafts Guild is officially closing "its doors" this September and has disbursed the last of their 2013 funds to the following groups:

Project Graduation -$500, Gary Beier, for the DTHS class of 2015

Dwight Economic Alliance - $300, Janice Lauritzen, for the Fourth of July fireworks

Dwight Township Food Pantry - $500, Patty Rosenbaum, to assist with December food bank distribution

Dwight Grade School -$1,799.99, principal Ben Bailey, to be used for technology (Bright Links projector)

Prairie Creek Library -Sherri $200, Rhodes, Librarian

Barb Milbauer and Linda Rosenbaum, long time members of Dwight Crafts Guild, would like to thank all the former members of the Guild for their support and many years of service. It certainly takes a team to organize, coordinate and implement a successful show. It's the hidden jobs that help the event run like a smooth oiled machine and helped the 2013. Guild's shows grow larger each year.

The November show had expanded to both DTHS and DGS, with people waiting at the doors to see what new items they could buy to decorate their homes or give as gifts. The Guild addressed the parking issue by adding a shuttle bus between the schools. People generously gave their time and energy to cook and serve a luncheon at the schools and the Boy Scouts helped crafters unload and then pack up at the end of the show.

A special thank you to the original founders of the Dwight Crafts Guild, as well as Elaine Kirby for organizing the original Harvest Days craft show booth spaces. When Elaine and Jim moved to Oregon, Ed and Karla Behounek stepped up and took over the organization of the two craft shows (Harvest Days and the November "Christmas" show) that Dwight Crafts Guild sponsored for many years.

Ed updated the Guild, Linda and Barb organized and coordinated the craft show through Harvest Days

Dwight Crafts Guild's mission was to bring arts and crafts to the citizens of Dwight as well as help and assist organizations in Dwight including the Dwight Public Schools. One of the first big pledges started with a three year commitment to the construction of the all weather track at DTHS.

Throughout the years, many donations have been disbursed to the schools, Boxes, Project Love Graduation, Prairie Creek Library, Chamber of Commerce (Fourth of July) and other Dwight organizations.

Dwight Crafts Guild was also part of the Harvest Days Committee, and still its own separate entity. A big thank you to all of the people who shopped at Harvest Days, the Christmas craft show held in November and the spring show which was held in the Guild's early vears. Everyone's patronage helped benefit many Dwight groups.

Dwight Crafts Guild would also like to wish the new Harvest Day craft show coordinators many successful years
