Dwight Resident Gets the Sister She Always Wanted

NANCY LOUIS, OF DWIGHT, left, met her sister Terri Luce, of Gilbert, Ariz., right, on Sept. 2 at the Old Route 66 Restaurant in Dwight after finding her through Ancestry DNA. Their first cousin, Brian Wilson, of Highland, also joined them. They spoke for hours and Nancy, who was adopted at 6 weeks, learned about her biological mother, Luce’s mom Marie McGill.

Nancy Louis of Dwight always wanted a sister, but she was adopted and became an only child growing up on a farm in Kempton.

Her loving parents, James and Bernice Bergan, never kept the adoption a secret and everyone accepted it. Still, a sister would have been nice, someone to “girl talk” with, to share makeup and clothes and secrets -- all those things that sisters bond over. The ultimate confidant.

Nancy was born Feb. 5, 1949, and adopted at 6 weeks through the Catholic Home Bureau in Chicago. She became daddy’s girl.

“I didn’t know any other world,” said Nancy, 69.

But as she grew older, she began to wonder about her biological mother, where she came from and what type of health issues she might have inherited. Last Christmas, her two boys bought her an Ancestry DNA kit, but it sat in a drawer for several months.

Then one day she pulled it out, sent in the sample and waited for any matches to show up on the Ancestry DNA website.

Meanwhile, 1,800 miles away in Gilbert, Ariz., Terri Luce, 56, had been part of Ancestry DNA for several years and had found two close relatives through the database. She was interested in genealogy and was trying to fill up the family tree.

She grew up in Gurnee, one of five children. Like Nancy, she had had a wonderful childhood. When she married and had kids, her mother Marie taught her daughters to crochet and bake. They adored their grandmother.

In early August, Terri received a new match, but this one was different. It was the first time the match had been labeled as a “close relative.” The match’s username was Louis, but she didn’t recognize the surname. Ancestry DNA predicted it was perhaps a parent or an aunt or uncle. Terri couldn’t figure it out.

“I didn’t know there was anyone out there to find,” she said.

Until one day soon after she got an email through Ancestry DNA from the same username. Nancy Louis explained that she had been adopted out of Chicago, her mother’s maiden name being Marie McGill, and wondered if she knew anything.

“I saw this email and said, ‘Oh my god, that’s mom,’” Terri said.

She responded back: “Nancy Please call me ASAP, Marie was my mom.”

What transpired from there was both stunning and bewildering, an unexpected link that would change the two women’s lives forever. Terri has stumbled upon a family secret she had never known. Nancy had found the sister she always wanted. Each was as astonished as the other.

Soon began a flurry of phone calls and emails, exchanging photos and each hearing her sister’s voice for the first time. Terri booked a flight and she and Nancy planned to meet.

It was Sept. 2, at the Old Route 66 Family Restaurant in Dwight. One hug was all it took to understand they had the same blood. It was as natural as the first time they spoke on the phone. They talked for three hours, each learning about each other, about the grown children of their own, and their shared family history.

Nancy learned that her birth mother came from a very religious Roman Catholic family. Marie was one of nine children, and had a fraternal twin named Rose Mary. Marie gave birth to Nancy in 1949. Terri said she graduated from high school a year later than her twin, at age 19. Piecing history together, Terri said they believe Marie got pregnant with Nancy in high school, and since she wasn’t married, had to make a heartbreaking choice to give her up. She then married in 1950 and had five more children.

“They pretended like these things didn’t happen” back then, Terri said.

Countdown to Harvest Days!

By Rachael Reynolds-Soucie

Harvest Days begins in eight days and organizers guarantee it’s going to be a boat load of fun.

More than 10,000 people attend over the weekend, said Randy Irvin, president of Harvest Days.

The festivities kick off Thursday, Sept. 20, with the carnival and food vendors. On Friday, things begin to kick into gear with music and the Victory Lanes beer garden, open 5-11 p.m. that night and 3-11 p.m. Saturday. The kids will want to pack a blanket and head over to Movie Night at the West Main Outdoor Theater for “Despicable Me 3” at 8 p.m. and “Jumanji: Welcome to the Jungle” at 10 p.m.

Saturday is when the festivities really kick off, Irvin said. The Fine Arts and Craft Show and flea market open at 9 a.m. with enough shopping to really burn a hole in your wallet.

“This year we have over 200 vendors which is the largest we’ve had in several years,” Irvin said. There’s a waiting list and they had spill-over onto Chippewa to accommodate the vendors.

Entertainment starts at 9 a.m. and goes well into the night. “Hot Sauce Universe,” an easy listening husband and wife duo from Bloomington, play at 4 p.m. After that, “Mike & Joe,” who’ve performed across the state, plan to kick things up with their high-energy sound.

I guarantee they aren’t going to disappoint,” Irvin said.

New this year is Team Trivia at 2 p.m. Saturday. Put your thinking cap on; it’s free to sign up. Also new is the bags tournament, which is sure to bring out the best corn-holers around for some fierce competition. There is a guaranteed $2,000 prize. You can sign up that day or early registration gets you a chance to win a new Miller Lite bags set.

For the kiddos, there’s free face painting on Saturday from 10 a.m.-2 p.m., pumpkin painting, and the Kiddie Parade that morning. Kids 12 and younger, put on your best harvest-themed attire and prepare to strut your stuff to win prizes. When you’re done, head over to the Kiddie Carnival. You might also see a surprise performance of Magic Mark or Sally the Clown.

There’s also a new and complimentary photo booth Saturday. Snap some funny photos with your bestie and take home a commemorative strip of photos.

At 5 o’clock something else new takes place: adult bingo! No doubt tables will be packed with people hoping to yell “BINGO!”

Sunday begins to wind down but there’s still plenty to come out for, perhaps the most fun being the long-standing Basset Waddle.

HARVEST DAYS IS RIGHT AROUND THE CORNER, Sept. 20-23 with a carnival, entertainment, beer garden and plenty of activities for the kids, including a petting zoo.

For 21 years, people from all over the state have brought their long-eared furry friends to Dwight to kick off the annual Harvest Days Parade.

Split the pot tickets are now on sale at Dwightraffle.com. You can also purchase 50/50 tickets during the fair. There’s a guaranteed $10,000 minimum prize -- think about what you could do with that! -- and proceeds benefit the Guardian Angel Basset Rescue, Dwight Economic Alliance and Dwight Harvest Days.

Another way to give back is to purchase a Harvest Days button; proceeds benefit Love Boxes for the hungry and Christmas for Kids.

And if you see a volunteer or committee member while you’re out having fun, be sure to thank them.

“People don’t understand how much work and volunteers it takes for Harvest Days,” Irvin said.

Cabery Day Cancelled by Weather

The remnants of Hurricane Gordon were bad enough to cancel Cabery Day on September 8.
Cheryl Weaver, who helps organize the annual event, said they have tentatively rescheduled for September 29.
Gordon brought rain and cold to the area last week, with 2 inches of rain dumped on Cabery Park, where the festival is held. The cold and damp led organizers to cancel on September 7.
“How do little kids have fun in that?” Weaver asked.
Cabery Day is an annual family-friendly festival with a 5k run, water fights, ball games, a petting zoo, tractor pulls and more for the kids, and music, gaming wheel, food and beer tent for parents.
Once the rain date is confirmed, Weaver said they will post it on Cabery and Grand Prairie Station’s Facebook page.

How Can Life Insurance Help You?
You may not be aware of it, but September is Life Insurance Awareness Month. Of course, you probably recognize, at least in a general sense, the importance of life insurance, but do you know the various ways in which it can help you?
Life insurance can play a sizable role in your ability to achieve some important financial goals, such as these:
Helping your family maintain its lifestyle – If you are married and have young children at home, you and your spouse may need to work. If you were no longer around and your earnings were gone, could your family still afford to live as they do now? Adequate life insurance can help them preserve their lifestyle.
Helping your children continue their education – Even if you weren’t planning to foot the entire bill for your children’s college education, you still might be doing what you can, such as contributing to a 529 education savings plan. If your income was lost, could your family still afford to continue these contributions? With enough life insurance, you can improve the chances that your children will at least get some financial help for college or vocational training.
Helping your survivors pay off debts – Are all your debts paid off? If not, you could be leaving your family on the hook for some of them, such as credit cards and car loans – not to mention your mortgage. Also, as uncomfortable as it may be to consider it, funeral and burial costs can easily run into the thousands. The proceeds of your life insurance policy can help pay down debts, handle your final expenses – and relieve your family of costly burdens.
Helping your spouse build resources for retirement – It’s almost impossible for most of us to save too much for retirement. Your spouse may already have some retirement accounts, such as a 401(k) and an IRA, but will these be enough to sustain a long retirement? Through life insurance, you can potentially add significant amounts to your spouse’s retirement assets.
As we’ve seen, you can accomplish a lot with life insurance. But how much do you need?

If you want the appropriate amount of coverage, you should consider a variety of factors. How much do you earn? How much does your spouse earn? How many children do you have? How old are they? How much do you owe on your home? By answering these and other, similar questions, you can arrive at a coverage level that’s suitable for your needs. Also, keep in mind that those needs will change – for example, if your children are grown and you’ve downsized your living arrangements, you may require less insurance than at earlier times in your life.
Life Insurance Awareness Month is a good time to remind yourself of the importance of insurance and of the need to own the correct amount. So, review your coverage soon – after all, you can’t predict the future, but you can still prepare for it.

Sisters

Marie, who died in 2011, never mentioned anything about Nancy’s adoption to her five children. One day, in fact, after Marie was diagnosed with cancer, her children joked with her about any secrets they should know. At first she said no, then mentioned, “Well one ...” She said it was up to their father to give permission to tell. He had dementia, so everyone brushed it off.

Their time at the restaurant felt like they had known each other all their lives and were “just catching up,” Nancy said. Terri couldn’t believe the resemblance to her mom. Nancy looked more like Marie than nearly any of Terri ‘s siblings.

Photos of Marie, both as a young woman and an older adult, show the stark resemblance. Nancy has her mother’s nose, her lips and, Terri said, her eyes. Being able to talk to her sister face to face was surreal.

“It was like talking to mom,” Terri said. “I was completely comfortable and I felt like I had known her my whole life.”

Nancy believes finding her sister was meant to be at this time in her life.

“Even though I have located my birth family, James and Bernice Bergan were and will always be my Dad and Mom. I couldn’t have asked for more caring and loving parents and the wonderful life they provided for me. I consider locating my birth family an added bonus to what I already have,” she said.

Terri feels the same. She never questioned her mother’s decision to give Nancy up for adoption and hopes her other siblings will one day decide to meet Nancy.

“Who knows what the circumstances were with me and who’s to judge because I don’t know the whole story and there’s no one alive who does,” Nancy said.

Terri was a little upset that her mother didn’t tell her children -- there have been so many lost years not knowing Nancy.

“All I can do is embrace Nancy and make up for the lost time as much as I can,” Terri said.

Dwight Harvest Days Button Features Gothic Church

If you want to support Christmas for Kids, Dwight Love Boxes and Harvest Days, purchase a commemorative button. Half the proceeds go toward Christmas for Kids and the Love Boxes.

This year’s Harvest Days Button features another Dwight landmark, the Gothic Church. The original design was created for the 2012 Harvest Days. The near final decision to close the Dwight Women’s Correctional Center led to a quick redesign in mid-July. The Gothic Church design was saved for “future use.”

Various events in Dwight continued to delay its use. In 2013, the anniversary of the Keeley Institute was celebrated and the beautiful stained-glass windows were spotlighted. The Dwight Woman’s Club achieved 100 years as an organization in 2014. The Pine Cone Path extension to Lions Lake, in 2015, resulted in as a stylized, almost aerial view of the path’s meandering.

By 2016, the construction in preparation of the high-speed rail necessitated moving Harvest Days to Renfrew Park. The Rocket, a favorite memory of all ‘kids’ of Dwight, became symbolic of the 2016 Harvest Days. With the passing of long-time Harvest Days president Jerry Beier, the committee honored his memory in 2017 with a button design.

So, here we are, in 2018, showcasing the Gothic Church -- no more designs in reserve.

Sons of Serendip to Perform in Pontiac

SONS OF SERENDIP – Tenor, Harp, Cello, Keyboard

This musical group of four friends, who through a series of serendipitous events, came together in graduate school at Boston University and formed this interesting musical quartet, which will be in Pontiac Tuesday, October 9, 2018 to perform at The Pontiac Township High School Auditorium at 7 pm as one of the current series of concerts provided by the Livingston County Concert Association.

The name SONS OF SERENDIP comes from the notion that “serendipity brought us together.” Each member has an inspiring story and together the SONS OF SERENDIP strive to embody the adjectives Classy, Genuine, Spiritual, Sensitive and Timeless.

Tenor Micah Christian was a teacher, keyboardist

Cordaro Rodriguez was an attorney, cellist Kendall Ramseur was a cello instructor, and harpist Mason Morton was a teacher. In 2014 serendipity gave them the chance to perform on America’s Got Talent and they were finalists (4th place) in the 9th season of AGT, and that launched their career.

Their concert program focuses on fairly contemporary music, some with a fresh twist, and some familiar pop tunes from Motown. All will feature Micha’s beautiful tenor voice and the wonderful playing of Cordaro, Kendall, (also the backup singer) and Mason.

This is a very interesting combination of voice and instruments which produces a lovely, rich sound. They have been playing their instruments since childhood, but in 2014 they came together to begin what they know will be a long beautiful journey of creating music that touches people’s hearts. Members of the group have hopes that their singing will inspire others to follow their dreams, to pursue their love for music, to spread love and build a better world, and create an experience one will never forget!

For information about this fabulous quartet and how to get your membership so you can enjoy this great show, please contact Ruth Schlosser at 815-844-6394. There will be a limited number of individual tickets available for the Sons of Serendip concert. Adult single event tickets are $20 each and will be available at the auditorium the night of the concert. For more information about the Association you can contact Dorothy or Rod Patterson at 815-844-7833, or email them at patterson.hjemme@gmail.com.

2018 Central States Threshermen's Reunion

THRESHERMEN'S REUNION took place in Pontiac August 30 - Sept. 3. Hot conditions and rain played along with the weekend. Threshing, plowing, corn shelling and milling took place. The truck pulls were cancelled due to excessive mud brought on by inclement weather. Despite the weather it was a fun event for all ages.

The Central Illinois Green Club participated in the 2018 "Ride the River" event on August 25. 98 riders completed a 54 mile trek along the Iroquois and Kankakee Rivers. This year's event raised more than $12,000. Dwight, Herscher and Tri-point FFA chapters will receive their disbursement in December of this year which will help fulfill their chapter needs.

Local Social Security Scam Alert

The Better Business Bureau Serving Central Illinois is warning consumers about a current Social Security scam involving phone calls that threaten the revocation of one’s Social Security Number unless the SSN is confirmed over the phone.

According to BBB investigators, this scam is targeting Central Illinois residents. Specifically, the Better Business Bureau has received reports from the cities of Springfield, Champaign, and Macomb. The scammers are utilizing robo-calling and are spoofing several numbers, so the number on the caller ID will continue to change.

In the case that you receive one of these calls, do not release your Social Security Number to the caller. The Social Security Administration will never request your Social Security Number over the phone. If you are questioning that the Social Security Administration is indeed requesting information from you, contact your local office or the administration’s direct line at 1-800-772-1213. Jessica Tharp, President/CEO of the Central Illinois BBB, is quoted in a Facebook Live video saying, "If you believe your Social Security Number has been compromised, contact your local police department to file a police report. This will help you document the fraudulent activity with your Social Security Number."

Furthermore, if you have received one of these calls and released your Social Security information to the caller, please also contact the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) at identitytheft.gov to report that your identity has been stolen. You may check your credit score for free (once per year) at annualcreditreport.com which is also monitored by the FTC. Another way to protect yourself is to implement a credit freeze. By doing so, no new lines of credit may be opened in your name until you are certain that you are not a victim of the scam.

Contact the Better Business Bureau with any scammer calls.

DTHS TROJANS FOOTBALL

Friday, September 7
Dwight vs. Seneca
Varsity -

The Trojans lost a heart-breaker on Friday night, falling 22-15 to SVC foe, Seneca.

In quarter one, Carson Crouch put Dwight on the board first with a three-yard rushing score – followed by an extra point from J.C. Santos – giving the Trojans a 7-0 lead early.

The Irish would answer, however, as Brody Baudino took in a two-yard run, which would be followed by a successful two-point conversion – giving Seneca the 8-7 advantage.

Logan Graham would put Dwight back in front late in the first half, scoring six on a two-yard rushing TD. He would run it in for the two-point conversion, giving his squad a 15-8 lead heading into halftime.

Seneca standout, Baudino, would run for a nine-yard touchdown midway through the third quarter – but a biffed extra point attempt kept them from tying the game, and the Trojans would remain in the lead, 15-14.

The score would stay that way until the 7:36 mark of the final frame, as Logan Bruss would find the end-zone on a six-yard carry. The two-point conversion was good, following the score, and the Irish would hold off Dwight to get the 22-15 victory.

Neither team completed a pass in the game, but racked up 206 (Dwight) and 243 (Seneca) yards on the ground, respectively.

Of the three pass attempts made by the Trojans, two were picked off.

Graham hit three digits in rushing, running for 101 yards on 20 carries – scoring once. Crouch tallied 63 yards on 11 attempts, with the one score, while Cal Schultz and Jaylon Simms ran for 17 and 11 yards, respectively. Colton Holm had two rushes for eight yards, with Wilton Jackman coming up with a six-yard carry.

On defense, Graham led with two tackles. Sims had 1.5 tackles, while Xavier Slaughter made a tackle for a loss. Chris Bement and Jackman had one and .5 tackles, respectively.

Dwight plays Clifton Central Sept. 14 at Dwight, 7 p.m.

Keep Exercising Despite Chronic Pain

Pain is a great excuse if you don't like to exercise, and it's certainly something many people with chronic pain would just as soon avoid.

Yet at the same time, exercise is one of the things that can help make that pain go away.

"It can become a Catch-22 situation," says Dr. Victor M. Romano, a board certified orthopaedic surgeon and author of Finding The Source: Maximizing Your Results – With and Without Orthopaedic Surgery (www.romanomd.com). "We don't want to exercise because we have pain, and yet exercise will usually help you reduce the pain over the long run.

Research has shown that exercise is an essential aspect in the treatment of chronic pain. Lack of exercise can cause a downward cycle of deconditioning and worsening pain. But exercise can help those with chronic pain engage in enjoyable and essential activities of daily living with greater ease. Cardio exercise, interval training, and weight lifting are the three types of exercise most people should include once a week in their workouts. Stretching should be included in every workout, Romano says.

Doctors generally ask patients to rate their pain on a scale of one to ten. The average intensity of pain experienced for 12 or more hours over a 24-hour period is considered their baseline pain. Romano says if, during exercise, pain levels increase by more than 2 points from the baseline you should stop and modify that exercise to ensure you do not cause a flare up of your pain. Of course, a good diet is also important.

Furthermore, obstructed breathing, from a deviated septum, allergies or a cold, will impair your balance and strength. Restoring clear nasal breathing will improve your performance.

For people who suffer from chronic pain, Dr. Romano offers these exercise tips:

- Try shorter exercise periods. Interval training is very helpful in patients with chronic pain. Short bursts of exercise can be more beneficial and less stressful than one long workout. Even five minutes is better than nothing. Everything counts.

- Weight training is also important for seniors and women to strengthen bones. Research has proven that weight training is good for everyone, regardless of sex or age. Make sure to incorporate it into your exercise program.

- Stretching is important. Go to Facebook, download our Romano Stretches, and incorporate them into your daily routine, even if you don't exercise that day.

- Try yoga or tai chi. These programs have shown success with people with chronic pain.

- Clear your sinuses. If your breathing is obstructed, use nasal sprays or get nasal strips that will open your breathing and further improve your strength and balance.

- Mind over matter. If you need to do an exercise that you know is going to be painful, start by taking some deep breaths and focus your energy. Take your time.

"Even though exercise for somebody with chronic pain sounds counterintuitive," Romano says, "it is very important as part of recovery therapy."

Mosquitos Test Positive for WNV

The Grundy County Health Department has recently collected mosquitoes in the Village of Coal City that have tested positive for West Nile Virus. Mosquitoes collected early this year have tested positive in the Village of Minooka, the Village of Braceville, the City of Morris and in Aux Sable Township in unincorporated Grundy County. This is the first batch to test positive in Coal City. The mosquitoes were collected during the first week of September.

Although summer is wrapping up, the Grundy County Health Department wants to encourage everyone to continue to take steps to avoid becoming a victim of West Nile Virus or other mosquito-borne viruses. To minimize your risks, follow the Illinois Department of Public Health’s recommended practices: Reduce, Repel and Report.

For further information regarding West Nile Virus, contact the Grundy County Health Department at 815-941-3115. You may also obtain information from the IDPH web-site located at <http://www.idph.state.il.us/envh/health/wnv.htm>.
