A NICE CROWD ENJOYED ICE CREAM SUNDAES and root beer floats as well as listening to the soothing songs from Sarah and Luke Windham on Sunday, August 4 outside the Dwight Historical Society Museum.

Visitors were able to preview the new exhibit "Dwight's Diners, Drive-ins and Dives." Society members are still looking for memories from folks who either worked in or have favorite memories of the featured eateries on exhibit in the Dwight Historical Society Museum.

DEE HANNER takes care of the flowers around the bell at the Dwight United Methodist Church. This is one of many jobs in her retirement years.

Dee Hanner Someone You Should Know

by Rachael Reynolds-Soucie

Dee Hanner officially stopped teaching in 1994, but you could say she never really retired.

A resident of Odell, she lived in Dwight for 45 years and, at age 85, she still gives back to the community in many ways.

She grew up in Edwardsville and received her teaching degree in 1955 from Missouri Valley College. She moved to Dwight, where her husband, Larry Hanner, was principal of the grade school.

In 1974, she got a job teaching PE and health in the Saunemin School District. It was two years after Title 9 had passed, and she started the girls sports program at Saunemin and coached junior high volleyball and track.

"It was exciting" to be part of history, she said, but also a little unnerving as a new coach. "I don't know who was more scared, the girls or me," she said about her first game.

The school won second in state in volleyball in the early '90s under her coaching.

She officially retired in 1994 after teaching and coaching in Saunemin. "I love teaching so much, I kept on subbing."

In 2009, she was asked to be the Odell School District librarian and has continued to do that for 10 years. She's also their speech coach.

"I love kids and I love working with them," she said. A longtime member of United Methodist Church in Dwight, she taught Sunday school and VBS and sang with the choir. For 35 years she has been the financial secretary for the church. She's been active with the president.

United Methodist Women's club and was a past district

She's also been very involved in gardening and making Dwight look beautiful. As a Girl Scout mother -- she has a daughter, Lisa, and son Rob -- she helped tend an area of flowers at the Country Mansion when it was still open. As a member of the Dwight Woman's Club, she helps tend the flowers by the flagpole at the train depot. She weeds and waters, with which she gets help these days since you have to carry the water to the flowers. It has always been important for her to keep things tidy, particularly around Harvest Days when she volunteered with the parade.

She is still active with the Streator Community Theatre for adults and children. She's not only worked behind the scenes but has acted on stage. She served on the board for 18 years. She's involved with their most recent production, "Babes In Toyland," which begins Sunday, August 19 and continues through August 19 at the Engle Lane Theater. Her favorite was playing Morgan le Fay in the production of "Camelot." She also volunteers with the Livingston County Concert

She worked as an officer for the Cunningham Children's Home in Champaign-Urbana, one of the missions of the UM Women, and still volunteers there. She also is involved in UM Women's Ladies of Faith, which started 12 years ago. They sing with the residents at Evenglow nursing home in Pontiac and Heritage Woods in Dwight. Singing, telling them jokes and visiting with them offers fellowship and joy to the residents, she said.

One might say there's no stopping her now."I retired so I can do other things," she said.

Pilot Truck Stop Will be a 'Big Boost for Gardner'

Officials at the Village of Gardner are anxiously awaiting news about the Pilot truck stop being built off Interstate 55, but there are many questions unanswered.

Village President Mike Serena said Pilot is still waiting on permits to be approved, so there is no date for a groundbreaking. He said Gardner officials are trying to get an update themselves on the project.

In a previous article, Serena said if everything goes as planned it could be open later this year.

The center will be located off of I-55 on 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ acres.

Pilot still needs to secure proper permits, sewer and water, gas, electric and access off Main Street. The village will also have to extend about a quarter of a mile in sewer and water lines to the location once permits are secured.

The village received $250,000 for the property, and it will cost $8 million to $9 million to build.

The village will also collect 1 percent of the sales tax on diesel, gas and sales from the convenience store and restaurant. Serena said the company estimates the truck stop will sell 600,000 gallons of diesel and 150,000 gallons of gas per month; and sales from the convenience store and restaurant are expected to be about $255,000 and $65,000 a month, respectively.

The project should also bring in between $150,000 and $175,000 in property taxes a year, which will be distributed to local taxing bodies since the property is located in an industrial TIF district.

"I can't wait for them to get started," Serena said. "Certainly it will be a big boost for Gardner."

2019 Dwight Harvest Days to Mark 40th Year

Only Six Weeks Until The Fun Begins!

by Rachael Reynolds-Soucie

In just six weeks, Dwight will once again be taken over by the fun and excitement of Harvest Days. And this year marks a milestone: 40 years.

Harvest Days is scheduled September 19-22 and organizer Randy Irvin said they are bringing back some of the years' favorite entertainers and events, thus the theme 'A New Look on the Past."

People will be thrilled to hear that Kankakee's Silhouettes will be closing out Harvest Days on Sunday after the parade. They have played the festival for many years and Harvest Days typically doesn't have anything after the parade, but Irvin said they wanted to do something really special to celebrate 40 years.

Tommy Edwards plays Friday, and Mike McConnell and Jerry Lee and the Juju Kings play Saturday, three more longtime favorites.

They are also bringing the car show downtown this year and moving it to Friday night so everyone can enjoy the some 200 classic vehicles that are put on display. They'll be parked on East Main Street and spill onto Franklin and Delaware. There will be an escape room on Friday and Saturday. And in addition to the bags tournament, they will be bringing back mud volleyball in the parking lot of Cherry Red Roasters.

The Kiddie Parade is back, as is pumpkin painting. The theme for all three parades -- kids, Harvest Days and Bassett Waddle -- is pirates.

But the biggest thing this year will be the new carnival by Skinner's Amusements of Marengo. Anyone who's been to Corn Fest in Morris knows what a great carnival it is. There will be new rides and a bigger midway.

"People will be very happy with this carnival," Irvin

Hundreds of volunteers are on track for this year's festival, he said, and the fun will be here before you know

Dwight Residential Fire Damages Two Properties

Dwight Fire Protection District was dispatched to the 300 block of West William Street on July 31 for a possible fire on a back porch. First arriving emergency units discovered a fire had developed from what appeared to be a deck attached to the residence. The fire was spreading from the building of origin to the neighboring house upon arrival.

Dwight Fire made an aggressive attack while requesting assistance from several neighboring Fire and EMS agencies. Both homes sustained fire and smoke damage. MABAS Division 15 investigators are currently investigating the cause of the fire.

The home the fire originated from is uninhabitable, however the neighboring home's damage was contained within the garage. No injuries to civilians or emergency responders have been reported at this time. DFPD estimated damages to exceed over $250,000.

Edward Jones® MAKING SENSE OF INVESTING

How Does Social Security Fit Into Your Retirement Income Strategy?

Aug. 14 is Social Security Day. Since it was enacted in 1935, Social Security has provided some financial support for millions of Americans during their retirement years. To help you make decisions about Social Security, you will need to answer these questions: When should I start taking my benefits? You can take Social Security once you reach 62, but if you wait until your full retirement age, you'll get much bigger monthly checks, and if you wait until 70, you'll get the biggest possible payments. How should I consider potential spousal benefits? If you are married, or if you're divorced but were married for at least 10 years, you could receive up to half of your spouse's full retirement benefit. If you outlive your spouse, you could claim survivor benefits, which can provide either your own benefits or 100% of your deceased spouse's, whichever is larger. The higher-earning spouse might want to postpone taking benefits for as long as possible to maximize the survivor benefit. How much can I earn without reducing my Social Security benefits? If you are younger than your full retirement age and you are receiving Social Security, the Social Security Administration will withhold $1 from your benefits for each $2 you earn over a certain threshold (which, in 2019, is $17,640). For the year you reach your full retirement age, your benefits could be withheld by $1 for every $3 you earn over $46,920. Once you reach your full retirement age, you can earn as much as you want without your benefits being withheld, although your benefits could still be taxed. How much of my pre-retirement income will Social Security replace? You should expect Social Security to replace slightly more than a third of your pre-retirement income. However, the higher your income during your working years, the lower the replacement value of Social Security will be. For more information, visit the Social Security Administration website at socialsecurity.gov. What other sources of retirement income should I develop? Contribute as much as you can afford to your IRA and your 401(k) or similar employer-sponsored retirement plan. You may want to consult with a financial professional. One final word: You may have concerns about the stability of Social Security. While no one can predict the future, many potential solutions exist to put the program on more solid footing. Consequently, try to focus on the actions you can control.

It is general information and not meant to cover all scenarios. Your situation may be different, so be sure to discuss this with the Social Security Administration prior to taking benefits.

Celebrating 50 Years of Helping Individuals with Mental Illness, Developmental Disabilities and Substance Abuse

Livingston County Mental Health Board

The Livingston County Mental Health Board is celebrating 50 years of helping those with mental illness, developmental disabilities and substance abuse with an open house on Wednesday, Aug. 28 from 3-6 p.m. in the conference room in the Health & Education Building at 310 E. Torrance Ave., in Pontiac. Chris Myers, executive director of the Livingston County Mental Health board, said the open house celebrates the county residents who made it possible to offer their services.

"This '50th Anniversary' is because the citizens of Livingston County cared enough to pass the referendum to be able to support services locally for individuals with mental illness, developmental disabilities, and substance use issues," she said.

They will have memorabilia such as old reports, newspaper articles and displays.

In 1968, Livingston County voters overwhelmingly passed a referendum to levy an annual tax for mental health facilities and services. The first Livingston County Mental Health Board was appointed in 1969 to administer the funds and monitor services provided by the agencies receiving such funds.

Myers said money is distributed to Livingston County agencies and is available only to Livingston County residents with mental illness, developmental disabilities or substance abuse who are not insured or need help that isn't billable under their insurance.

PRAYER TO THE BLESSED VIRGIN

(Never known to fail)

Oh most beautiful flower of Mt. Carmel, fruitful vine, splendor of Heaven, Blessed Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in my necessity. Oh, Star of the Sea, help me and show me herein you are my Mother, Oh, Holy Mary, Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my neart to succor me in this necessity. There are none that can withstand your power. Oh, show me herein you are my Mother, Oh, Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse in thee. (3x). Holy Mother, I place this cause in your hands.

Holy Spirit, You who solve all problems, light all roads so that I can attain my goa You who give me the divine gift to forgive and forget all evil against me and that in all instances of my life You are with me. I want in this short prayer to Thank You for all things aa you confirm once again, that I never want to be separated from You in eternal glory. Thank You for your mercy toward me and mine.

The Person must say this prayer 3 consecutive days. After 3 days the request will be granted. This prayer must be published after the favor is granted.

GEDC Hosts Internship Recognition Dinner

Parents were on hand to celebrate the successes of their sons and daughters as the seventh Grundy County Summer Internship Program came to a close. An internship recognition dinner was held on July 30 to formally recognize and congratulate the students that participated in the paid, hands-on internship program. Nancy Norton, President & CEO of the Grundy Economic Development Council (GEDC), opened the event by welcoming the businesses, educators, parents and students. Senator Sue Rezin introduced the company representatives along with their interns. Senator Rezin emphasized that the students should be proud that they were chosen to work at some of the finest businesses in Grundy County. The internships offer a chance to gain meaningful professional work experience and learn more about the many different employment options within the community.

Lance Copes, Director of Grundy Area Vocational Center (GAVC), also addressed the crowd and discussed the benefits and opportunities that the experience of the internship had given the students. Copes stated that there were over 140 students who applied for the 42 positions and those in the room should be proud that they were selected to participate in the program. Copes also encouraged the interns to keep in touch with their mentors and ask if there are opportunities to work during school breaks or even again next summer.

The 42 paid internships this year were with 15 different companies, offering a diverse set of opportunities for local students. The program began in 2013, with just 12 internships and 3 companies. To date, over 200 students have gone through the program. The program is open to students attending one of the four Grundy County high schools or the Grundy Area Vocational Center.

The Grundy County Internship Program was based on a mutual desire expressed by leaders in education and industry to highlight local employment opportunities and retain local talent in Grundy County. Senator Rezin, GAVC and the GEDC partnered with local industry and education to launch the program in

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY OF SKINNER TROST Unit 122 of Cullom sponsored the 2019 Poppy Poster Contest for grades four and five at Tri-Point Upper Elementary, and grades six through eight at Tri-Point Junior High in Piper City. The High School didn't take part this year, however there was one ninth grader who had a Poppy Poster entry. There were 86 posters judged by two Unit 122 Auxiliary members and two Post 122 Legion members. Six first place winners from each grade were sent to the American Legion Department Headquarters in Bloomington in April. On the Department Level, Unit 122 had three winners. First place in fourth grade was Lexa Porth; fifth grade, first place - Melanie Tamayo; and second place - Melina Schuette. Awards were presented on July 13 at The Bank of Springfield Convention Center, following the American Legion Family Joint Memorial Service. Porth and family, and Tamayo and family, were present to show their posters, receive their monetary gift, and get their picture taken with Department Commander Michael Carder and Department Auxiliary President Deb Lewis.

French Heritage Museum to Recognize Bertrand Family

The French Heritage Museum will honor the Bertrand family in the museum's ongoing recognition of early French and Belgian families to the Kankakee area.

Louis and Lucie Bertrand arrived from the Quebec Province in time for the 1850 birth of their daughter, Marie Liberia, in Bourbonnais, Illinois. Leon Bertrand's wife, Marie Aglae Perreault, gave birth to her 8th child in Bourbonnais in 1852. He was their first child born in the United States. The Bertrands have been at home in the area for 169 years.

All the Bertrands in the area do not descend from just one

France and sailed for Ouebec in the 1600s; there were several of the surname who came to the New World in the 1600s and are not closely related. As of 2014, 56% of all known bearers of Bertrand surname lived in France, 13% lived in Canada, 12% in the U.S., and 6% in Belgium. Perhaps a large percentage of U.S. Bertrands live in Illinois, in Kankakee and Iroquois Counties. It is Iroquois County, in the Clifton and L'Erable areas, where the Belgium Bertrands settled by 1856. They were French speaking Walloons from south of Brussels.

Arbor Day FoundationTree Identification Book Helps People Identify Tree Species

The Arbor Day Foundation has a book that helps people identify trees in a simple, stepby-step process. The book, What Tree Is That?, is available for a $5 donation to the nonprofit tree-planting organiza- bark.

What Tree Is That? is a fun, easy-to-use tree identification guide that features hand-drawn botanical illustrations highlighting the distinctive characteristics of many tree species.

Nature lovers and professional arborists alike have called this pocket field guide a must-have, user-friendly resource. Its beautiful, full-color illustrations are in precise detail and depict natural colors, shapes and textures so users can make a positive species identification in a few steps.

The Arbor Day Foundation offers this book to help people identify trees throughout the Eastern and Central regions of the United States. What Tree Is That? uses a unique step-bystep approach for identifying the species of each tree, explaining what to look for in the shape and arrangement of the leaves, differences in the leafstalks and specific characteristics of fruits, flowers, buds and

"Our What Tree Is That? Pocket guide is an ideal resource for developing a greater appreciation for trees," said Matt Harris, chief executive of the Arbor Day Foundation. "The Arbor Day Foundation strives to help people enjoy and appreciate trees, and we feel our pocket field guide will do just that."

What Tree is That? is also available as an online interactive version at arborday.org.

To obtain a tree identification guide in full color, visit arborday.org or send your name, address, and $5 for each guide

Lincoln History is Celebrated Daily at the 2019 Illinois State Fair

Bring the entire family to experience a wide variety of fun interactive events, demonstrations, and performances celebrating the life and times of Abraham Lincoln on the grounds of the Illinois State Fair from August 9 - 18. Every day from 10 a.m. - 4 p.m., reenactors and performers from throughout the Looking for Lincoln - Abraham Lincoln National Heritage Area will offer FREE demonstrations and performances sharing the Lincoln story with fairgoers.

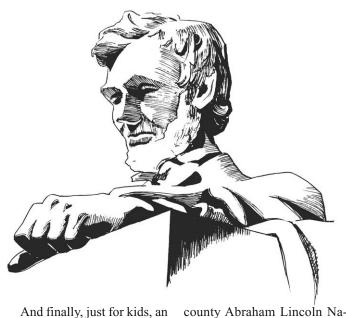

First, just inside the historic Main Gate, the lawn of the Illinois Building will come alive with blacksmithing, broom making, pioneer games, rope making, and candle making, while Civil War reeneactment musicians play the tunes of the day. Don't miss acclaimed musician Chris Vallillo, who will be performing some of Lincoln's favorite songs. New this year is an intriguing rail splitting demonstration, giving a glimpse of the hard work of Lincoln in his adolescent years.

Second, stop by for a chat and photo with President Lincoln all 10 days of the fair. Mr. Lincoln loves to interact with his modern-day constituents, and offer observations of his time while inquiring about the mysteries of your life today. Be sure to post your photos and hashtag them with #HistoryInYourBackyard. Looking for Lincoln may choose your photo to share on their Facebook page!

Events on the lawn are partially supported by a grant from the Illinois Arts Council

Third, it's time to get creative with the Flat Lincoln photo contest! Flat Lincoln loves having his picture taken at the State Fair and at historic sites around Illinois. The more creative the better! To participate, go to www.lookingforlincoln.com and navigate to the Flat Lincoln page. Print out Flat Lincoln, cut him out, and take him with you to the fair or other historic site. The best images will be posted on the Looking for Lincoln Facebook page, and prizes will be awarded to the favorites. Time to get snapping! Fourth, stop by the Looking for Lincoln Area to pick up your commemorative "Lincoln on a Stick," courtesy of the Abraham Lincoln Presidential Library and Museum. These extremely popular masks go fast, so claim yours before they run out - supplies are limited!

exciting scavenger hunt has been developed in partnership with the Abraham Lincoln Presidential Library and Museum. This activity encourages children to explore the history in their own backyard, and learn more about Lincoln's life and times. Children who complete the scavenger hunt will receive a coupon for admission to the Abraham Lincoln Presidential Museum in downtown Springfield.

"As we celebrate the State Fair theme: "Building our Future," Looking for Lincoln is pleased to bring history to life at the Illinois State Fair. We invite all fairgoers to join us on the lawn of the Illinois Building," said Sarah Watson, Executive Director of Looking for Lincoln and the Abraham Lincoln National Heritage Area.

The Looking for Lincoln Heritage Coalition is the coordinating entity for the 43tional Heritage Area. It is a partnership of organizations and individuals dedicated to enhancing the communities and landscapes of central Illinois through recognition and support of their significant natural, cultural and historical legacies.

Few individuals have so profoundly influenced American History as did Abraham Lincoln. Millions around the world are inspired by the story of Lincoln's rise from humble beginnings to President of the United States, his qualities of integrity and courage and his decisive leadership - traits that carried a fragile nation through one of its most trying periods.

Matt Hogan Recognized as '40 Under 40' Award Recipient

Matt Hogan

For the second year, 40 of the river industry's future leaders were honored at the Inland Marine Expo in St. Louis, MO in May with the "40 Under 40" in the River Business. All 40 honorees were nominated by executives and peers for their hard work and dedication to the industry.

Matt Hogan, 31, is the regional project manager for J.F. Brennan Company, Inc. based in La Crosse, Wisconsin specializing in Marine Construction, Dredging, and Diving. He has been with Brennan since 2014, and he is now the company's representative for all work on the Illinois River and lower portion of the Upper Mississippi River. He has overseen several multi-million-dollar projects that include lock and dam repair work and barge terminal construction.

"Matt has been an integral award for Young Professionals part of the Brennan team," said Mark Binsfield, vice president-business development, who nominated Hogan for the award. "He personifies our culture at Brennan through his hard work, honesty, integrity, focus on safety and the respect he shows those with whom he works. Matt has a bright future here at Brennan and in the river industry and is very deserving of the IMX 40 Under 40 Award."

Before joining Brennan, Matt worked for Walsh Construction and was involved in large lock and dam construction projects on the Ohio River. He holds a civil engineering degree from the University of Illinois. Matt resides in rural Buckingham with his wife

Patrick J. Watson

ODELL - Patrick J. Watson, 61, of Odell passed away Wednesday, July 31, 2019 at 9:35 a.m. in his home in Odell.

Pat was born January 30, 1958, in Pontiac, son of Raymond J. and Marie "Toni" Trainor Watson.

He is survived by his brother and favorite sister-inlaw, Raymond J., Jr. (Susan Gschwendtner) Watson, of Springfield; his soulmate, Tracey Sauer of Streator; one aunt, Patricia Russell of Cottage Grove, Wisconsin; one uncle, Jack Trainor, of Wing; and many cousins.

He was preceded in death by his parents.

Pat was a graduate of St. Paul Grade School and Odell High School, class of 1976. He received a BA from ISU in Business Management with a minor in Ag Business. He was a lifelong farmer in the Odell area and also worked for more than 30 years at the IRS Distribution Center in Bloomington. Pat was a member of St. Paul Catholic Church in Odell and the Odell Knights of Columbus. He was a past member of the IL Farmers Union and a Board member of Pontiac Mutual Insurance. He was a huge Cubs and Notre Dame fan. He enjoyed playing golf and for many years his greatest passion was sailing on Lake Michigan and participating in the annual Mackinac Island Race.

Pat was proud to be a lifelong member of the Democratic Party; he will be remembered for his quick wit and joyous personality. He was always willing to lend a hand to anyone in need. He will be dearly missed by his family and friends.

A Mass of Christian Burial was Monday, August 5, at 10 a.m. in St. Paul Catholic Church, Odell, celebrated by Father William Keebler and Father Jerry Verdun.

Burial followed in St. Paul Catholic Cemetery, Odell, with Paul Eaton, Jim Fraher, Gary Fosen, Mike Trainor, Tom Kelso and Jerry Hogan serving as pallbearers.

Visitation was Sunday, August 4, from 3 until 7 p.m. at Duffy - Baier - Snedecor Funeral Home in Pontiac, with a Wake Service at 2:30 p.m.

Memorials may be made to St. Paul Catholic Grade School, 300 S. West St., Odell, IL 60460.

Online condolences may be made to the family at: duffyfu neralhome.com or on facebook.

Summer's Almost Over?.

I'm a big fan of lists, and ranking things, and I often resort to that when I struggle to think of something to write about for a given week.

week the list is going to be things that happen that make it seem like the summer is almost over.

This week I'm going to do another list, and this

I'm not going to put these in any particular order, but just give a few from growing up, and now that seem to mark the end of the summer months and that school is about to start back up.

One, is Shark Week being on TV. This might seem like an odd one, but for me when I would see the ads and then proceed to watch the entire Shark Week marathon on Discovery it always coincided with the process of preparing for the upcoming school year. The Week typically airs the last week of July going into August, so when that was on, I knew that school was right around the corner.

A second one, on TV, that made me realize summer was almost over was the Little League World Series. They mask it as baseball. Baseball is a summer sport, but nope, it airs typically around August 15 to August 25, which is right around the time a lot of public schools in central Illinois go back to school. Very entertaining, but a constant reminder while you're watching it.

Thirdly, which may be more obvious, is the start of practice for whatever fall sport you compete in. I only participated in cross country during my time in high school and when the practice started for that school was just around the corner. It was always bittersweet to be back with friends from the team but I also knew that school days were going to begin.

These are the three biggest ones that I remember from growing up. Two of them are TV shows. Maybe it shows I should've gotten outside more when I was a little kid. But, it's my list and they're going on it.

Go, Cubs. First place CUBS.

THE VERY FIRST SMOKEY BEAR POSTER, created by artist Albert Staehle and issued in 1944, is pictured.

Happy Birthday, Smokey Bear!

On August 9, Smokey Bear turns 75 years old. Smokey has been doing a great job for all these years to help reduce careless fires. Smokey Bear history is very interesting. It began with a simple idea and over the years, his fire prevention campaign became an overwhelming success. In fact, it is the longest running public service campaign in US history.

there were concerns about the protection of forests in America, since many firefighters and other men were overseas fighting in the war. The Forest Service thought if they can get a message out to people to be more careful, it would help prevent fires.

Back during WWII,

In 1944, the Forest Service authorized the creation of Smokey Bear. Smokey Bear became very popular quickly and many posters, stamps, radio, and television announcements were heard and seen throughout the years. Smokey's original slogan was, "Smokey Says – Care Will Prevent 9 out

"Remember...Only YOU can melody of the song. Prevent Forest Fires." And finally, in 2001, the slogan changed to, "Only You Can Prevent Wildfires." This was changed due to many outbreaks of wildfires that occurred outside of forests.

Besides the campaign of preventing fires, there was a real Smokey Bear. In 1950, in the Capitan Mountains of New Mexico, there was a large wildfire. After the fire, firefighters found a lone little cub holding on to a tree. The cub was badly burned on his paws and back legs. News about the orphan bear spread quickly and many people called and wrote in on the bear's recovery. The orphan cub became a resident of the National Zoo in Washington D.C., becoming the living embodiment of Smokey Bear.

was so popular he received his own song titled, "Smokey the Bear." This is when Smokey began being called, "Smokey the Bear." The

Also, in 1964, the USPS gave Smokey Bear his own Zip Code (20252) because he was receiving so much fan mail. And in 1979, the Smokey Bear Historical Park was created in the Capitan Mountains to honor Smokey Bear where he was originally found.

Rep. Tom Bennett Reports

Tax Relief Task Force Gets To Work

Property Tax Relief Task Force Poised to Get to Work - On Thursday, the Governor signed legislation officially empaneling the newlyformed Property Tax Relief Task Force. Property taxes are one of the biggest financial burdens our families face, and I am pleased to having been appointed to serve on this new Task Force to work on real solutions.

The Task Force is comprised of members of both legislative chambers and both political parties and will get down to work quickly. Our initial report on how we can provide property tax relief will be presented to the Governor and the General Assembly in 90 days.

In addition, I was appointed this week to the new School Construction Task Force that will over the next several months review the School Construction Law and research the needs for capital improvements in schools throughout the state.

Governor Signs Legislation Improving Patient Access to Prescribing Psy-chologists. Illinoisans living in rural or underserved parts of the state will have better access to quality mental health services, thanks to another piece of legislation just signed into law. PA 101-0084 improves the licensing process for psychologists who want the ability to write prescriptions.

It expands the list of educational settings where clinical work can be done and should increase the number of prescribing psychologists who enter the workforce and help ease our shortage of mental health professionals in many parts of our state.

The new law also adds prescribing psychologists to the list of health care professionals who can provide telehealth services to Illinoisans, which will be especially helpful to families in rural areas.

June 2019 Unemployment Rate Drops in Illinois. The Illinois Department of Employment Security report for June 2019 indicates that the jobless rate dropped in the most recent 30-day period, decreasing from 4.4% in May to 4.3% in June. This approaches the 4.0% level that is usually taken to indicate "full employment.'

There was a net increase of 11,400 Illinois jobs during the month, with new jobs concentrated in leisure, hospitality, trade, transportation, utilities, professional services, and business services.

People seeking new opportunities in these and other job areas may utilize Illinois Job Link to match their resumes with posted job offers from more than 10,000 Illinois employers.

How Much Do We Owe? As of the time of this writing, the State of Illinois owes $6.055 billion in unpaid bills to state vendors. One year ago (fiscal period ending August 31, 2018), the backlog stood at $7.5 billion. This figure represents the amount of bills submitted to the office of the Comptroller and still awaiting payment.

Did You Know? Did you know the ice cream "sundae" was named in Evanston, Illinois? Some in the town were uncomfortable with residents habit of hanging around the soda fountain on Sunday, so they passed an ordinance prohibiting the retailing of ice cream sodas on Sunday.

Ingenious confectioners and drug store operators obeying the law, instead served ice cream topped with flavored syrup without the soda. Facing new objections to naming the treat after the Sabbath they simply changed the spelling of "sunday" to "sundae."

Expert Advice for College-bound Grads

Only 60 percent of college freshmen will graduate within 6 years according to the latest report from the National Center for Educational Statistics. That's pretty scary stuff for college-bound students and their tuition-paying parents — especially if loans are part of the financial formula.

Even for those students who make it to graduation, there may be some question as to whether they made the most of their time on campus.

As this Northern Michigan University senior reflects, "There I was, about to graduate with some random degree and feeling like I'd wasted my parents money."

And from a University of Florida senior: "The problem with college is that you figure it out about the time you're ready to graduate."

Helping college students "figure it out" sooner rather than later is what the latest edition of the awarding-winning "Been There, Should've Done That — 995+ Tips for Making the Most of College," (Front Porch Press) continues to do. The 4th edition again draws from interviews with seasoned collegians across the U.S. According to author, Suzette Tyler, a former academic adviser at Michigan State University, "their 'expert' advice is refreshingly insightful and often more encompassing than might be found in an adviser's office."

"I could talk until I was blue in the face about things like time-management and self-discipline," Tyler explains, "but when a fellow student says, 'I got great grades and I never missed a party and here's how to do it,' it has far more impact.

Here are some tips from 'the

Attest: Todd Perkins

• "The first few weeks are great. You're meeting people, partying ... no tests, no papers. Then ... WHAM! Everything's due in the same week! If you weren't hitting the books right along, you'll spend the rest of the term digging yourself out!" - Senior, University of California, Santa Cruz

• "Gather all the syllabi during the first week of classes and write down the due date for every single paper, project, test or whatever. You'll see instantly which weeks are potential killers." - Junior, Wake

• "Sitting in a classroom is the easiest part of college and it cuts study time in half. Why make it hard on yourself? GO!" - Senior, University of Iowa

• "What separated me from the masses was 'connecting' with a faculty member. I didn't even know what the possibilities were until he laid out a 'roadmap' and showed me a few shortcuts to get there. When my confidence was shaky, he reminded me that I could do it." - Graduate, University of Michigan.

• "Pick the professor, not the time of day." - Junior, Duke University

 "Get a job in the office of your major. You'll get to know everyone from the secretaries to the dean, all of whom can be very helpful. If any great opportunities come along, you'll be the first to know." - Senior, Indiana University

· "There's no reason to fail! There are people here to help and it's free. Actually, you've paid for it so you might as well use it." - Senior, Michigan State University

"The students who make the most of their college experience aren't necessarily the smartest ones. It's often the average kids who know how to utilize the system, connect with the professors, take advantage of extracurricular activities, and manage their time well who reap the rewards," Tyler says. "Been There, Should've Done That" can help students get all they can out of the next four years.

Understanding and living with sciatica

The largest nerve in the human body is the sciatic nerve, which originates in the lower back and travels through the back of each leg. Injury or pressure on this nerve can lead to a type of pain known as sci-Sciatica can have an adverse effect on everyday life, causing pain that can radiate from the lower back through the hips and buttocks and down the legs. People experiencing pain in these areas should consult a physician immediately, as the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons notes that between 80 and 90 percent of people diagnosed with sciatica get better over time without surgery. Many typically feel better within several weeks of beginning treatment.

The first step toward diagnosing sciatica begins at home. People who learn to recognize potential symptoms of sciatica may be more likely to seek immediate treatment than those who might mistake their pain for something else.

What are the symptoms of sciatica?

The AAOS notes that sciatica may feel like a bad leg cramp that lasts for weeks before it goes away. According to Spine-health.com, a property of the health publisher Veritas Health, sciatica pain is often described as burning, tingling or searing as opposed to a dull ache. In addition, pain resulting from sciatica may be worse when sitting, even though sharp pain associated with sciatica can make it difficult to stand up or walk. Numbness characterized by a "pins and needles" feeling, weakness or a burning or tingling sensation down the leg are some additional symptoms of sciatica. Does sciatica affect both legs?

WebMD notes that sciatica usually affects only one leg, though the buttock or leg on the affected side may feel like it is in constant pain.

What causes sciatica?

Spine-health.com notes that the following five lower back problems are among the most common causes of sciatica:

- Lumber herniated disc: This occurs when the soft inner material of the disc herniates, or leaks out, through the fibrous outer core, irritating or pinching the nerve root.
- Degenerative disc disease: Discs in the back can degenerate naturally with age and never contribute to a problem like sciatica. However, degeneration in one or more discs in the lower back can sometimes irritate a nerve root and lead to
- Isthmic spondylolisthesis: This occurs when a small stress fracture allowers one vertebral body to slip forward on another. The combination of collapsing disc space, a fracture and the slipping forward of the vertebral body can pinch the nerve and cause sciatica.
- Lumbar spinal stenosis: In this condition, which is relatively common among people older than 60, a narrowing of the spinal canal can contribute to sciatica.

muscle found deep within the buttocks, the piriformis connects the lower spine to the upper thighbone, running directly over the sciatic nerve. Spasms in the piriformis can put pressure on the sciatic nerve, triggering sciatica.

Treating sciatica

Sciatica often can be treated successfully without surgery. • Piriformis syndrome: A Doctors may recommend applying heat and/or ice packs for acute sciatic pain. In addition, over-the-counter and prescription pain medications can effectively reduce or relieve sciatic pain. Doctors also may explore other treatments, including chiropractic manipulation, acupuncture, massage therapy, and surgery.

More information about sciatica can be found at www.orthoinfo.aaos.org.

The health benefits of carrots

When looking to quell hunger pangs that can pop up between meals, many people reach for snacks. Snacks can be a great way to prevent overeating at mealtime, but such benefits can be negated if people choose the wrong snacks.

Potato chips and sugary packaged baked goods may be readily available inside office vending machines and at convenience stores, but such snacks don't pack the nutritional punch of carrots. Considered a superfood by many people, carrots are a simple snack that can be found at any grocery store and brought along to an office, regardless of whether that office is a traditional office, a work site or anywhere else people spend their workdays.

Vitamins and minerals

Carrots are a great source of various vitamins and minerals. According to the health and wellness information site Healthline®, carrots are great sources of vitamin A, biotin, vitamin K1, potassium, and vitamin B6.

Carrots are rich in betacarotene, which the body converts into a vitamin A, a nutrient that promotes strong vision and plays a vital role in immune function.

Studies have shown that biotin plays an important role in the body's ability to metabolize fat and protein.

Vitamin K1 plays a vital role in blood coagulation, which is the process of making blood clot. Coagulation enables the blood to plug and heal a wound.

Potassium can help people control their blood pressure, which can benefit their longterm health in various ways.

Finally, vitamin B6 plays a role in converting food into energy, making it an ideal afternoon snack for people who want to quell their hunger pangs and give themselves a needed energy boost.

Carrots and long-term health

Carrots also have been shown to have long-term health benefits. In 2016, the American Institute for Cancer Research added carrots to its list of "Foods that Fight Cancer." The links between carrots and reducing cancer risk are many and include carrots' status as a low-calorie snack. Low-calorie snacks can help people reduce their risk of overweight and obesity, which the AICR notes are a cause of 11 cancers.

Studies, including one published in the European Journal of Nutrition, have linked carrots to lower cholesterol levels.

That's a considerable benefit, as high cholesterol is among the most significant risk factors for heart disease.

Carrots have long been touted as helping to improve vision, and that reputation is well-earned. When the betacarotene in carrots is converted into vitamin A, that vitamin A combines with a protein called opsin to form rhodopsin, which is needed for night and color vision.

When snack time beckons, carrots can help people reap immediate and long-term re-
